2002 SCHEDULE

Schedule Notes

- Preseason sees the Lions at home for two weekends and hitting the road for two weekends. Penn State will host the Penn State Invitational at the end of August and the Penn State Classic the weekend of Sept. 13-14. The Nittany Lions will travel to Fairfield, Conn., to take on New Hampshire, Seton Hall and host Fairfield the first weekend of September. Penn State will then round out their pre-season schedule at the American Classic in Washington D.C., facing perennial power Florida and either Yale or host American the weekend of Sept. 20-22.

- Penn State has a combined 272-52 all-time record against its 2002 opponents for a winning percentage of .840. The Lions also have an impressive 220-42 all-time mark against current Big Ten rivals and 52-10 against preseason foes.

- The 2002 slate features first-time meetings with two different teams, Quinnipiac and Seton Hall.

- Ten of Penn State's 22 opponents have yet to record a win over the Lions, including Akron (0-3), New Hampshire (0-1), Fairfield (0-2), Morgan State (0-1), Villanova (0-10), Army (0-3), American (0-3), Yale (0-2), Indiana (0-24) and Iowa (0-22). The Lions have a combined 69-0 record versus these teams.

- Six of the 11 Big Ten teams received bids to the 2001 NCAA Tournament, including Illinois, Michigan State, Minnesota, Ohio State, Penn State and Wisconsin. Four teams, Illinois, Michigan State, Minnesota and Penn State all reached the second round before dropping matches while Ohio State and Wisconsin fell in their Regional Semifinal matches.

Penn State head coach Russ Rose knows a thing or two about approaching a season with optimism. He is the winningest active Division I coach and is beginning his 24th season at the helm of the Nittany Lion program.

"When you have a group of returning letterwinners and five or six newcomers, you have to have a realistic and optimistic approach," said Rose. "The arrival of the new players should provide us with some new energy and a new enthusiasm. We'll start building the program as we did before to compete at the highest level. Everyone has the goal to compete at that highest level. Not everyone achieves that goal like we have in the past, and the pursuit is the challenge."

Following the loss of two-time All-American Katie Schumacher, Rose and his staff of Mike Schall and Julie Miller are looking to polish edges and fill holes left by graduation and injury. The squad returns 10 letterwinners, including three starters, for the 2002 season. In addition, six newcomers, among them three Volleyball Magazine 2001 "Fab 50" selections, will make an immediate impact on the young Lions.

Outside Hitter

Perhaps the highest profile player on the squad is senior All-America selection Mishka Levy. Last year the Houston, Texas, native averaged 3.62 kills per game and was named Honorable Mention All-Big Ten at season's end.

"Mishka is a player who played a significant role in the national championship team of 1999. We need her to carry a large load offensively for us in her senior year."

Aiding Levy will be sophomore Ashley Pederson and true freshman Amy Morris. Pederson played in 69 games for the Lions in 2001, averaging 2.04 kills and 1.54 digs per game while posting a career-high 12 kills against Michigan on Nov. 16.

"Ashley needs to have a step-up year," said Rose. "Physically she is one of our best athletes. She is the type of player who can play either left or right side, and with Erin Icceman's injury, we may need to move her."

Amy Morris is one of Penn State's three 2001 "Fab 50" selections. As a prep athlete, she compiled a record of 131-14 and was named Most Valuable Player all four years at Michigan City (Ind.) High School. Named the Gatorade Player of the Year for Indiana in 2001, Morris brings size and a competitive fire to Penn State's front lines.

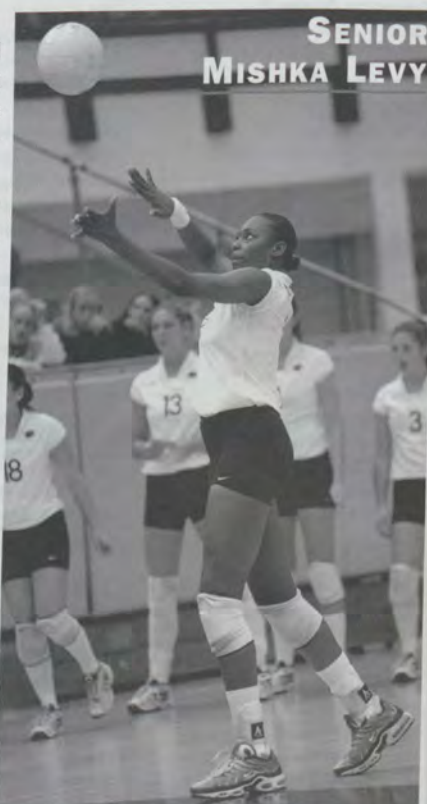

"Amy Morris is a person I expect to see play all of the time. She is a good ball handler as well as an effective hitter. She is going to have to learn about the college block, as blocking in the Big Ten is very large. She is a fighter and she is going to be a mainstay with a personality that this team needs."

Another athlete likely to see playing time at the outside hitter position will be Syndie Nadeau who competed in seven contests last season as a true freshman. She posted seven kills and two blocks against Northwestern on Oct. 26 and looks to see more time.

"Syndie is one of our better volleyball players," said Rose. "She provides a lot of positive skills and she did well in the spring season. She needs to use her experience and competitive intelligence to have success."

Sophomore transfer Jen Amobi could also contribute on the outside. After attending Marquette University last season, Amobi comes to Penn State with Conference USA All-Freshman team honors, averaging 3.36 kills per game for the Golden Eagles.

"Jen is a physical player and we certainly need her to increase the physical nature of our squad," said Rose. "She likes to swing at the ball and we need to provide opportunities for her to be able to highlight her strengths."

SENIOR
MISHKA LEVY

2002 OUTLOOK

Middle Hitter

With the return of junior Robyn Guokas who led the Big Ten in blocking in 2000, the middle hitter position could shape up to be one of the most highly contested positions on the squad. Several players have the opportunity to make contributions in this area, including Guokas, junior Cara Smith and incoming freshman Kim Holm.

Guokas, who missed the 2001 season due to illness, was the conference's leading blocker in 2000, averaging 1.44 blocks per game.

"Robyn is at times our best player," said Rose. "She is a key player and there is no question that her strength is her ability to see the play develop across the net, which is what makes her such a successful blocker."

Junior Cara Smith brings needed experience to the net, as she was named to the Big Ten All-Freshman team in 2000 and played in all 108 games last season. The Lafayette, Ind., native led the team in blocking with 1.43 blocks per game while hitting .336.

"Cara needs to step into the role as one of the premier players in the conference. She works hard every day and hopefully the experience of her sophomore year will be motivating for her to get her to do the things she has to do to make a larger contribution this season."

Kim Holm, the second of Penn State's 2001 "Fab 50" selections, is a 6-1 freshman from St. Charles, Ill., and has been the starting middle for the Sports Performance Volleyball Club for three years, winning three AAU gold medals while earning All-America status in 2002.

"Kim is a good volleyball player who is going to get better as she gets stronger, more physically mature and aware of what is going on in the college game."

Mishka Levy and Ashley Pederson may also get swings in the middle, as both are versatile players who have seen time in both the outside and middle hitter positions in the past.

JUNIOR JESS HAYDEN

A spring season knee injury to junior Erin Iceman has left the right side position up for grabs going into pre-season. Several athletes, including Mishka Levy, Ashley Pederson and Syndie Nadeau, will have to adjust to fill the vacancy.

"We have some question marks based on the injury to Erin Iceman," stated Rose. "We are going to have to move someone to the right side who doesn't have a lot of experience playing that position. There will be adjustments, but hopefully we'll be able to alleviate that void."

Setter

The biggest battle of the preseason may come at the setter position. Junior Jess Hayden and incoming freshman Sam Tortorello will both be vying for the starting role, along with another incoming freshman, Emily Guman.

Hayden, who split time last season with the departed Shannon Bortner, topped the team in assists per game with 9.17 while also acting as a serving specialist for part of the season, averaging 0.40 aces per game.

"Jess has made some great contributions to this program," said Rose. "She's battled the last couple of years as the starting setter and she is our best server. We will depend on her in various ways this season."

Sam Tortorello, the third 2001 "Fab 50"

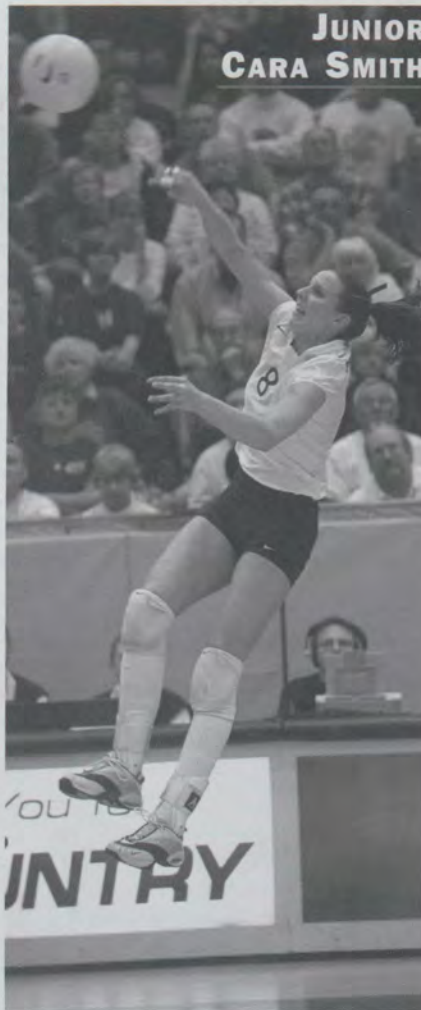

selection of the incoming group, comes to Penn State with a long list of accolades. A Sports Performance Volleyball Club member for nine years, Tortorello played on the 2000 USA Youth National team and has been named the Best Setter at AAU Nationals for three years. The four-time All-America honoree led her Sports Performance team to a 2002 AAU National Championship this summer.

"Samantha is in many people's opinion one of the top setters in the country coming in as a freshman," says Rose. "She has a lot to offer, both in the setting and blocking areas. Sam is going to remind our fans of [former Penn State setter and four-time All-American] Bonnie [Bremner] because both came from the same club program. She has a great touch on the ball and is a fierce competitor."

Emily Guman is a ten-time letterwinner (four volleyball, four basketball, two track) from Allentown (Pa.) Central Catholic High School. She led the Vikings to one volleyball and two basketball state championships and was a nominee for the Wendy's High School Heisman Trophy. Her father was a two-sport athlete at Penn State who went on to play nine years of professional football and her brother is currently a sophomore on the Nittany Lion football team.

"Emily comes from a very athletic family and I like the way she plays," commented Rose. "She will be very valuable as a backup setter and back-row player. She will be a great asset to this program."

JUNIOR CARA SMITH

2002 OUTLOOK

Libero

With the 2002 season comes the addition of the libero position to the women's game. The libero is a player who is allowed to change places with any player in the backrow for passing and defensive purposes but who is not allowed to serve or attack the ball above the net. Their entry does not count as a substitution and they are designated by a contrasting jersey color from the rest of their team.

Senior Hilary Sexton is the frontrunner for the libero position. Penn State's best passer and defensive player, Sexton played in 96 games during the 2001 campaign, averaging 2.10 digs per game while also acting as the squad's primary passer.

"Hilary was made to be a libero," said Rose. "She is quick and a good ball handler. The position is an opportunity for her to pass and be involved in all of the plays."

Freshman Kaleena Walters will also be competing for the libero role. A 2000 U.S. Youth National Team alternate, she was a three-time Pennsylvania first team All-State selection. Walters led Mt. Lebanon High School to the WPIAL and PIAA State Championships in 2000 and was a member of the 2001 All-Powerbar team.

"Kaleena is going to be a great libero," said Rose. "She plays hard and always has a smile on her face."

"It should be a good, competitive challenge for Kaleena and Hilary because they are both good and have exceptional volleyball IQs. Both are quick to the ball and are aware of the importance of having good contacts every time they touch the ball."

Defensive Specialist

Several players will have the opportunity to see playing time at the defensive specialist position. Senior Tina Huisenga and sophomores Tabitha Eshleman and Emily Gerega will all be competing for a spot on the floor.

Eshleman was the first defensive and serving substitution last season, playing in 103 games while Huisenga, Gerega and Rojas gained experience in selected contests and in the practice gym.

"A lot of teams have a majority of big players and very few small players," said Rose. "A third of our team is small players. The backrow players will make for an interesting collection of athletes who will contribute at certain times and give us a needed boost."

Newcomers

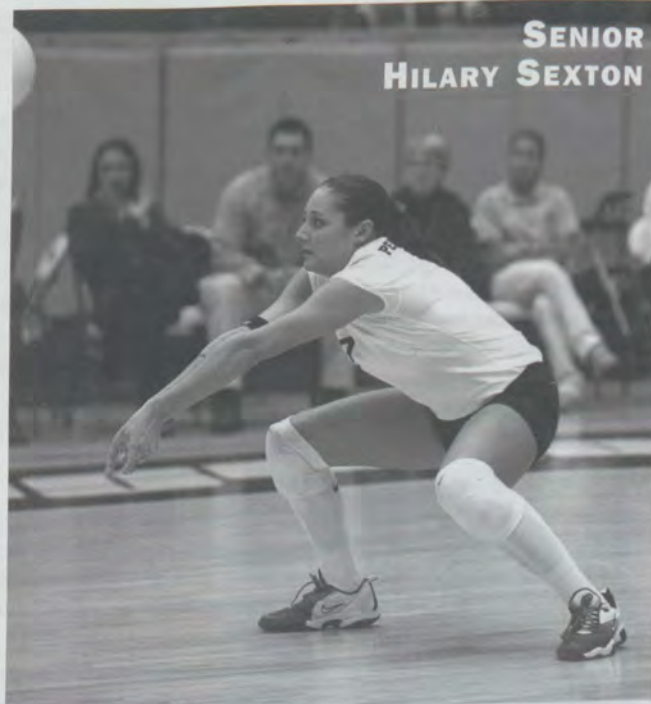

A group of six solid athletes comprise the Nittany Lion newcomers. Five are true freshman while another is a sophomore transfer, but all will make an immediate impact on the Penn State program.

"A great deal of the success of this program is going to be based on the contributions of the incoming class," commented Rose. "Many are going to play significant roles and their success will be based on if they can learn while still maintaining the enthusiasm and excitement they come in with."

Tortorello and Guman will both be competing for the starting setter position, Amobi and Morris for one of the two outside hitter spots, Walters for the libero and Holm for a middle hitter slot.

"Some say we have one of the top-ranked recruiting classes in the country, and I hope that proves to be true," said Rose.

"I'm not looking at this season as easy. But if we get good contributions from the returning players and if the new players have fire, compete hard and have fun, they will all make the program stand out, and that's what we are looking for."

SENIOR
HILARY SEXTON*Schedule

The Penn State women's volleyball team will play two new opponents and square off against old foes during the 2002 season. The Lions, who open up at home against Rutgers on Aug. 30, are a combined 271-52 all-time against opponents they will face this year, a winning percentage of .839.

"With a number of new players coming into the program, we feel it is important to get them more opportunities to play together," said Rose. "The experience that is garnered by playing in the Big Ten can't be duplicated in the early season, but we have four weeks to integrate the younger players and have them play at a level where they feel comfortable. It is the Big Ten portion of our schedule that catches the most attention."

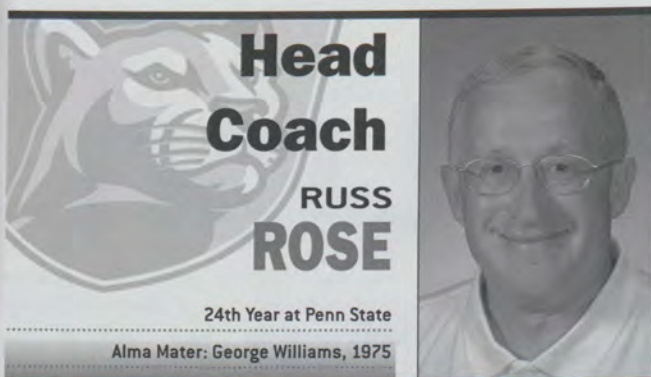

Penn State will face new foes in Quinnipiac (Aug. 31) and Seton Hall (Sept. 7) during early preseason tournaments. The Lions will host the Penn State Invitational on August 30-31 and the Penn State Classic on Sept. 13-14 while traveling to a tournament at Fairfield University on Sept. 6-7 and taking part in the American Classic in Washington D.C. on Sept. 20-22. A preseason matchup to watch will be against perennial power Florida on Sept. 20 at the American Classic. The Lions hold a 5-1 advantage over the Gators, with the last meeting a four-game win at Florida. Penn State has a combined record of 51-10 against its preseason opponents.

The Lions open Big Ten play at home the weekend of Sept. 27-28 when they host Indiana and Ohio State at Rec Hall. From there, Penn State alternates between road and home play until two consecutive away weekends at the end of November. The Lions have an impressive 220-42 all-time record against Big Ten foes. After splitting matches last season, conference power Wisconsin comes to Happy Valley on Oct. 26 with the Lions visiting Madison on Nov. 22. Other key conference matchups are contests with Michigan and Michigan State (Oct. 11-12 home, Nov. 1-2 away) and Illinois (Oct. 4 away, Nov. 9 home) who all split matches with Penn State last season.

NITTANY LION COACHING STAFF

HEAD COACH RUSS ROSE

Russ Rose directs the Penn State women's volleyball program with a quiet yet reassuring confidence that is the unmistakable life blood of one of the nation's most successful programs.

It is a confidence not gleaned from the shine of numerous trophies and accolades bestowed upon the coach and the program, though no one would question if it was. In 23 seasons at Penn State, Rose has collected wins at a staggering pace. Never having posted less than 22 wins in a season, he earned his 700th career victory at Penn State, on Sept. 15, 2000, with a win over West Virginia (only the fifth Division I coach to reach the milestone) and has firmly entrenched the Nittany Lions among the elite programs in the nation.

Rose does not reflect on past successes. "Fans can get spoiled very quickly in athletics and that's a problem," Rose said. "It's not easy to be successful in anything and when people get accustomed to specific results, it sometimes loses its effect on the players and they forget what it really takes to succeed and how important the journey really should be to their development."

Instead, Rose addresses each new team and season on its own terms and his confidence lies in the ability and work ethic of his current players and coaching staff.

"I'm not much of a believer in predicting a team's level of success," Rose said. "I can only state that we're going to do our best. If we're good enough to win matches then we're going to win matches, but if we lose it's not going to be because we didn't work hard and it's not going to be because we rested on our program's previous laurels."

For a good example of this statement, look no further than the 1999 season. Following two consecutive campaigns which saw the Lions reach the title match of the NCAA Tournament only to fall in defeat, the team returned to the NCAA Tourney finale in 1999 and captured the first National Championship in the program's history with a 3-0 sweep over top-ranked Stanford. The 1999 season also saw Rose lead Penn State to its second-consecutive 20-0 record in Big Ten play (and fourth straight conference title), becoming the first team in conference history to pull off the feat. In addition, the 1999 Nittany Lions extended their current NCAA record home-match winning streak to 80 straight (extended to 87 in 2000), eclipsing the previous standard of 58 set by Florida from 1990-94. The Lions streak was finally put to a halt at 87 matches with a loss versus Minnesota on Sept. 29, 2000. Penn State had last dropped a match at Rec Hall on November 24, 1994, when they suffered a 3-2 setback to Illinois, a span of over five seasons.

After posting a runner-up finish in 1997, the Lions made it back to the NCAA Championship match in 1998. The team cruised through the regular season with a 30-0 mark with 28 of those coming in three games. Penn State also became only the second school to close out the conference record with a perfect 20-0 mark.

ROSE HAS A 23-YEAR PENN STATE RECORD OF 743-135 (.846), MAKING HIM THE WINNINGEST ACTIVE DIVISION I COACH.

After winning its fifth Big Ten title, Penn State hosted the NCAA First and Second Rounds and the Central Regional. They swept past Bucknell, Clemson, Louisville and Brigham Young to earn a spot in the school's fourth national semifinal. Once they reached Madison, Wis., the season ended much like 1997. Penn State defeated Nebraska 3-1 to advance to the national championship match. And once again, the Lions had to rally from an 0-2 deficit to force a fifth game only to come up short for the title.

However, perhaps nowhere has Rose's infusion of confidence been more evident than in the two other years when he led an inexperienced team with one starting senior and a rookie setter deep into the postseason.

In 1996, the Lions started out 15-0, before finishing the regular season with a 29-2 mark and a share of the Big Ten title, Rose's third in six seasons in the conference. The squad that took the court in the NCAA tournament was comprised of one senior, one junior, one sophomore and three freshman. That talented group came two points from knocking off Nebraska at home, in a match to go to the national semifinal. Penn State finished the campaign with a 31-3 record and a final ranking of No. 5. Half of those starters, Bonnie Bremner, Angie Kammer and Terri Zemaitis, earned All-America honors, while Bremner became Penn State's first Big Ten Freshman-of-the-Year for her play at setter.

The 1995 squad posted a 27-8 record and a No. 8 final national ranking. Rose's ability to convey a belief in his players and to instill an uncompromising work ethic led to the Nittany Lions' sixth-straight appearance in the NCAA "Sweet 16" and a third place finish in the Big Ten. Along the way he guided Penn State's third Big Ten Player of the Year in just five seasons in the conference as sophomore Zemaitis captured the award.

"I want the players to have a good experience — I want them to enjoy the many opportunities available at Penn State, but clearly I want them to know that they've come to a competitive, disciplined program and we're going to work hard," Rose said. "And without question have some fun along the way.

"We're not fanatics, and I want the players to be happy. It's certainly easier to be happy when you're winning than when you're losing. So, we'll have to provide them with the necessary direction and opportunities and hope they remain healthy enough to see if we can make a run at winning as many matches as possible."

Something that has never been a problem for the coach. In his 23 seasons at Penn State, Rose's record is 743-135, an .846 winning percentage that ranks number one nationally. His squads have secured 30 or more wins in a season 17 times and 36 or more victories six times.

In 1994, Rose coached the Nittany Lions to a second-straight NCAA national semifinal appearance and picked up his 500th career win early in the season. Placing second in the Big Ten with a 17-3 conference mark, the Nittany Lions posted a 31-4 ledger on the year and ended the regular-season ranked No. 5, at the time their highest regular-season finish ever. Season highlights included beating national runner-up and perennial powerhouse UCLA at the Volleyball Monthly Invitational and stunning No. 1-ranked and undefeated Nebraska in Lincoln in front of a full house at the NCAA Mid-east Regional final to advance to their second-straight national semifinal.

Rose added to an already crowded trophy case by picking up the NCAA Mid-east Region Coach of the Year honor for the fourth time.

Still, Rose has had more to do with Penn State's success on the court than he's willing to admit.

"I think that it's a reflection of my years of service and the caliber of players and staff we've attracted in the past," Rose said. "When you retire from coaching, people will look and see the success you had, but I'd like to be evaluated on the success of my players, their feel for their experience at Penn State and the growth that the program has had since the time I arrived here. We had three in-state scholarships and hand-me-down basketball jerseys when I arrived at Penn State. I think that's more of a reflection of what I was hoping to accomplish when I entered the profession. I'd rather be remembered for the type of parent I want to be for my children than how many games we won while I was at Penn State."

Yet, the on-the-court accomplishments do speak volumes. In 1993, another dream season, the Nittany Lions surged into their third year of Big Ten play and won their second-consecutive conference title. At the NCAA Tournament, the team strung together four victories and earned the right to play for the National Championship against Long Beach State. Rose puts the success in proper perspective.

"There's a large number of excellent coaches at great schools that have yet to break into the national semifinals. There's a small number of teams that have made it there, and fewer yet that have reached the final match. I won't look at it [reaching the final match] other than it was a great ride that the players took us on and it reinforced that there's validity to how I've run the program here at Penn State.

"I have been involved here for a long time, but I don't want to take the major responsibility for the success because I know one thing for sure, and that is you can't get where we are today without the support of our administration."

HEAD COACH RUSS ROSE

"The players need to understand what it takes to be successful and they need to have fun. We showed that winning can be fun and that it isn't necessary to change in a stressful environment."

Rose's formula for success was recognized by the media and his coaching peers when he garnered the triple-crown of coaching accolades in 1993 as he did in 1990. Volleyball Monthly named Rose the National Coach of the Year and he also was picked as the NCAA Mideast Region and the Big Ten Conference Coach of the Year.

It was the second time Rose was honored nationally (1990), and the second-straight year the Big Ten voted for the Nittany Lion leader. In addition, he has been awarded Northeast Region Coach of the Year four times, the Atlantic 10 Conference Coach of the Year six times and was District II's top coach in 1996.

"Coach is a great guy," confided three time All-American Salima Davidson, who spent time as the captain and starting setter on the U.S. National Team. "He's very straight-forward and to the point, which is what I like. The thing about him is that you can talk to him and he can help you with any problems you might have. Then, on the court, he's all business. I like that combination."

So does former Nittany Lion outside hitter and former volunteer assistant coach Jen Reimers. "You learn how to be a better person and a better player," she said about Rose's teaching ability. "You learn how to work with everybody else."

"I like the fact that he comes out and tells you exactly how it is," said Penn State All-American Laura Cook (1991-94). "He bases a lot of our experience on the court to life and life after volleyball."

"I really enjoyed the experience I had while playing for Coach Rose," said All-American Katie Schumacher (1998-01). "I learned a lot, both on and off the court. He is a great teacher and is well-respected around the nation."

Many athletes have thrived under Rose's tutelage as witnessed by the 17 different All-Americans (earning 36 selections in all) and 14 first-team All-Big Ten players (earning 30 selections in all) he has coached. In 1999, Lauren Cacciamani was named Big Ten Player of the Year and was also named the conference's Female Athlete of the Year. Bonnie Bremner and Katie Schumacher joined Cacciamani as All-Big Ten selections in 1999. Bremner won back-to-back Big Ten Player of the Year honors in 1997 and 1998. Amanda Rome and Carrie Schonveld were recognized with honorable mention All-Big Ten status, while Mishka Levy was named to the conference's All-Freshman squad. Penn State also placed six players on the Academic All-Big Ten Team in 1999, as Bremner, Cacciamani, Kalna Miller, Schonveld, Rome and Dawn Ippolito were honored.

In 2000, Schumacher repeated as an All-Big Ten performer, while Levy earned first-team status for the initial time in her career. Amanda Rome was recognized with honorable mention all-conference status after helping lead Penn State to a 30-6 record and its 11th consecutive NCAA regional appearance in 2000. In addition, Rome, Ippolito, Shannon Bortner, Robyn Guokas, Erin Iceman and Hilary Sexton were named Academic All-Big Ten.

The 2001 season began with seven consecutive home matches and ended with the Lions making an early NCAA Second Round exit with a three-game loss to UCLA. But even with their 22-8 season, Penn State advanced to their 21st consecutive NCAA Tournament and garnered 20 wins in a season for the 26th straight year. Schumacher earned first team All-Big Ten honors while Levy picked up honorable mention accolades. Seven Lions earned Academic All-Big Ten recognition during the 2001 campaign, pushing Penn State's 11-year total to 32 student-athletes earning 69 selections. Rome, Iceman, Guokas, Bortner, Sexton, Tabitha Eshleman and Emily Gerega were all recognized for their scholastic and athletic achievements.

Prior to entering the tough Big Ten Conference in 1991, Penn State experienced unprecedented success in the Atlantic 10 Conference, winning eight straight championships. In seven seasons of round-robin play, the Nittany Lions never lost a conference match, reeling off 49 consecutive wins. The 1990 season was Penn State's last in the Atlantic 10 and it proved to be one of the most exciting in the 25-year history of the program.

Unbeaten in 42 regular-season matches, the Nittany Lions swept Purdue and Big Ten champion Wisconsin in the first two rounds of the NCAA Tournament. Of the team's 44 wins, 40 were sweeps, a school and national record. Penn State, 12-0 against NCAA Tournament teams, lost to Nebraska in four games in the Mideast Region championship match in Lincoln.

Penn State finished sixth in the final 1990 Tachikara Coaches Poll, the program's highest final ranking ever at the time.

Three Nittany Lions — Jo Ann Elwell, Michelle Jaworski and Noelle Zientara — were named All-Americans by the AVCA and Volleyball Monthly.

An 11-time nominee for National Coach of the Year, Rose garnered the Atlantic 10 Coach of the Year award in 1984, 85, 87, 88, 89 and 90.

Throughout his career, Rose has been called upon to share his expertise with the coaches and players who represent the United States in international competition. In 1989, he was an assistant coach with the United States men's national team for an exhibition series with Canada and the Soviet Union. His work on the international scene was to have continued in July of that year, but personal commitments and time constraints prevented him from accepting the position as head coach of the U.S. women's team to the Maccabiah Games.

In 1990, Rose worked with members of the men's national and developmental teams during training camp in San Diego. In 1993, he assisted in the U.S. men's matches with Canada and the women's team against China. He also assisted with the U.S. men as they prepared for the 2000 Olympics in Sydney.

Rose recently returned from assisting the U.S. men's team on a 13-day tour of Italy where the athletes competed against the world's top teams, including Brazil, Italy, Yugoslavia, Russia and Holland.

A former instructor in the USVBA coaches certification program, Rose has served as a national referee and evaluator and state director for volleyball for the Special Olympics.

Rose was a member of the NCAA Division I Volleyball Committee for six years and the NCAA representative to the United States Volleyball Association Rules Committee.

Rose served as head coach of the U.S. men's team, which won the bronze medal at the 1985 Maccabiah Games, and the U.S. women's silver medal team in the 1981 Maccabiah Games. He won bronze medals as an assistant coach of the women's team in the 1982 National Sports Festival and as the East women's head coach at the 1983 Festival.

An active clinician, Rose also coached professional men's volleyball in Puerto Rico in 1976.

Players are not the only ones to benefit from Rose's tutelage. Over 20 individuals within the college coaching fraternity have gained instruction from Rose.

A 1975 graduate of George Williams College, Rose was a member of the school's team that won the 1974 National Association for Intercollegiate Athletics national championship. He was the captain of the 1975 team that finished third in NAIA competition.

After graduation, Rose remained at George Williams for two years as a part-time coach, helping the women's team win two state titles and place sixth in national competition. He also assisted the men's team that won another national championship in 1977.

In 1978, he completed his master's degree at Nebraska, where he was the defensive coach for the Cornhusker women. While writing his thesis on volleyball statistics, he led the second team to a two-year varsity mark of 52-5.

In 1986, Rose married Lori Barberich, a former three-time All-American at Penn State. They are the parents of four sons, Jonathan, Michael, Christopher and Nicholas.

THE ROSE COACHING PHILOSOPHY

Russ Rose has taken Penn State from the regionally competitive level to that of an NCAA power since he took over the Penn State women's volleyball program in 1979.

The development has been complete and successful, because of excellent talent and an equally sound method.

Following is "The Rose Coaching Philosophy:"

COACH'S ROLE

"I believe the coach has numerous roles that require constant review and attention."

"First, and foremost, is the recruitment of quality student-athletes. With effective coaching, student-athletes become the real key to a team's success."

"Secondly, we as a staff have to relate to the players what we feel is important for their growth and success. All the knowledge in the world will prove to be useless if we can't prepare our team for competition. We've shown this to be one of our strengths. I have great confidence in Mike and Julie that they will do whatever it takes to help the players improve and pursue their dreams."

"Third, we have to prepare the team both physically and mentally. The physical preparation is easy, as the entire Penn State environment encourages the pursuit of excellence as shown by our Sears Cup results. The mental aspect of our players' development is one of the areas that I feel has separated us from our competition."

"Certainly our time in the Big Ten has really demonstrated to us the importance of making sure that the players are aware of what is going to be expected in a conference as strong as the Big Ten. It's been the strongest conference in the country via the RPI and has led the nation in attendance for a number of years."

"Outside the Big Ten, we play a competitive non-conference schedule. We continually strive to meet teams during the regular-season that have advanced in the national championship playoffs."

"I contend that the best way to see where our team is and where we aspire to be, is to play the nation's best teams. Our administration has allowed us to truly compete annually for the national championship."

"I think our role here is to attract the type of player that wants to be at Penn State, understands what we are about and knows what it will take to fit into our program. I don't want to be in the position where we are going to have to be saying one thing to get a player interested in Penn State and then change our story once the athlete arrives on campus."

"I have been contacted by other schools as well as the National Team program regarding their coaching positions, but I feel that the support I receive from the administration at Penn State is second to none, and I have no interest in leaving. So I am interested in people who are willing to be up front in what they see in their own development and what we can do to help them succeed."

FUNDAMENTALS

"Fundamentals are the most important aspect of the game. I think it's a tedious process but you need to spend a lot of time on them. We try to recruit student-athletes that are great volleyball players but the game always comes down to fundamentals. I will not sacrifice the time necessary to develop a strong foundation. This is where a team's discipline and confidence is first introduced and developed. Our commitment to each team is for every one of our players to be challenged to become the best they can be every day. I know our players are constantly improving their game here."

TEAM PLAY

"Team play really deals with volleyball being the ultimate team sport. The greatest thing you can talk about is the opportunity for a team to compete for a national championship. You must communicate and sacrifice to be successful. All the players must possess a wide variety of skills and be willing and able to play together. My approach is to select the best combination of players who will play together and at the same time seek to fulfill their own roles and goals."

"The team that is willing to emphasize the pursuit of excellence at its own personal expense is the team that most often succeeds. Our success over the years, where we have won our conference and advanced to the national semifinal and championship matches, continues to reinforce these beliefs. 1999's National Championship was just the icing on the cake."

TEAM DEFENSE

"Team defense is one of the aspects of coaching that I really enjoy. It has always been one of the staples of our program. The pursuit of the ball in a game can only occur through preparation and repetition. I believe that everyone in the program has to rally around certain concepts. At Penn State, we play hard, controlled defense, which means every player pursues every ball or they are taken out. I believe if you train hard, then the game itself begins to be easy. If a player starts making decisions on what ball they think they can get and what they think is somebody else's ball, that's when we try to make some adjustments and get someone else involved in the play. Our defensive philosophy is to keep every ball in play — every day of each season. I believe we have shown this works over the long haul as well."

STUDENT-ATHLETE

"The term student-athlete is a very valid one here at Penn State and in the Big Ten. We recruit not only quality athletes, but quality students as well. There is no question in my mind that the well-rounded individual will be better prepared to deal with the numerous challenges faced in life. The programs available at Penn State are geared for success. The opportunity to pursue your potential, both academically and athletically, is in place and working well at Penn State."

"I expect a commitment both to academics and athletics. I take great pride in the fact that every young woman who has entered our program and completed her playing eligibility has received or is on target to receive her degree. Rankings of the 29 athletic programs on campus reveal that the women's volleyball team annually posts one of the highest cumulative grade-point averages. With proper emphasis on the importance of maintaining high academic standards, I know we will achieve continual success. We have had the most members of Academic All-Big Ten as a sport and an institution since joining the conference, and that speaks volumes about our student-athletes as well as our academic advising staff."

THE BIG TEN CONFERENCE

"The Big Ten is certainly the premier athletic conference in the nation. It is a conference which is totally committed to the pursuit of excellence. The opportunity to play in the Big Ten truly enhances our program. The excitement generated by the athletes and fans at matches is great for the sport. It's a great environment in which to compete. The conference has been ranked number one in the volleyball RPI ratings since 1998 and again lead the nation in attendance in 2001."

PENN STATE UNIVERSITY

"Penn State has been terrific for women's volleyball. I don't think there is another school in the country that has the support from everyone from the athletic director to the president of the university. The university president routinely drops by practices and uses the players in university functions to help increase the visibility of the program. I am very optimistic on the future of Penn State women's volleyball and there is no place in the country I'd rather be than Penn State. The community has supported us during our development and the university's commitment is to be the best in everything it offers, from academics to athletics."

RECRUITING

"It is our goal to encourage quality student athletes to visit Penn State with their parents to get a realistic view of what is really entailed with what we refer to as the "Penn State Experience." The campus, the environment and face of State College truly separates us from many of the other schools in the country as we exemplify the meaning of a "college town". The chemistry that exists between the team members is what has kept us competitive and the energy that exists between the university and the town of State College keeps the juices flowing. We want players that want to make a commitment to be the best that they can be. We also want players to be aware of the fact that I am looking for a level of accountability from them as well. I'm not looking for a situation where I'm going to spend 24 hours a day, 7 days a week trying to monitor their lifestyles or getting involved in preventing them from having a good time. I believe the college experience at this time in their lives is the greatest opportunity to have fun and explore. I think you live hard and play hard and at Penn State, the students have a great opportunity to have fun in multiple areas. We have had only two players transfer in 24 years."

STAFF

"I feel real positive about the staff. I think it's great to have Mike [Schall] and Julie [Miller]. Some people would think that having two people that are from Penn State would be a negative but I see it as very positive. It's such a positive thing to have those people back because they know in this program they are going to be encouraged to have an opinion and their opinions are going to be heard. I respect what they have to say and the players can turn to them and get good feedback and not be dependent on having to interact with me all of the time. An additional benefit that I think is important in our philosophy is that we try and look at the strengths of the players and the strengths of what's available. We think it's a tremendous bonus. We're one of 6 schools in the country who have had a men's and a women's team that have won a national championship and the only school outside of California and Hawaii that can make that claim and I think it's terrific that volleyball is on the map here year round. The interaction between the men's and women's programs here is exceptional."

ASSISTANT COACH MIKE SCHALL

Assistant Coach Mike SCHALL

12th Year at Penn State

Alma Mater: Penn State, 1994

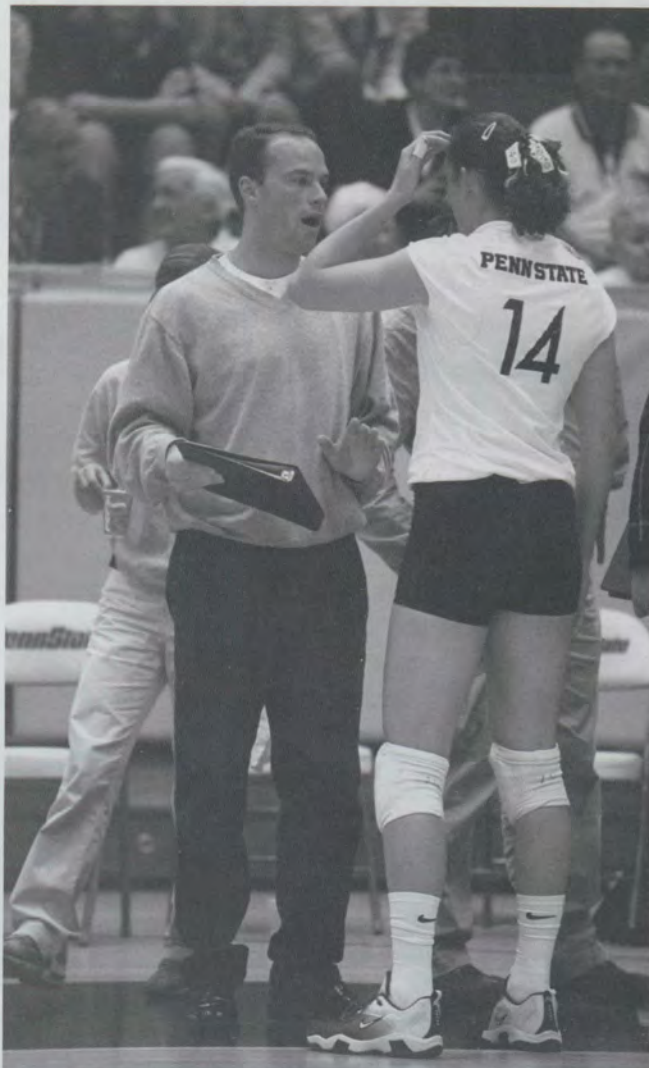

In his 12th season as a Penn State assistant, Michael Schall is the most veteran member of Penn State's women's volleyball coaching staff other than head coach Russ Rose.

Schall earned four letters as a defensive specialist on the Nittany Lion men's volleyball team. A two-year co-captain, Schall also displayed longevity as a player as he played in every Penn State match during his four-year career.

Schall brings the experience of a proven winner as he was a member of three Eastern Intercollegiate Volleyball Association (EIVA) championship teams and advanced to the NCAA Semifinals three times.

PENN STATE HAS AN OVERALL RECORD OF 331-48 IN THE 11 YEARS THAT ROSE AND SHALL HAVE COACHED TOGETHER.

"Mike has developed into more than just an assistant coach," said head coach Russ Rose. "I depend on Mike for every aspect of the program. There are very few decisions I make that have long-term impact on the program that I don't talk with him about."

"He is a great addition to this program and has been for the 12 years that he has been here. I trust him with every aspect of the program and feel that we are very fortunate to have continued to keep him involved in the Penn State family."

A native of Latrobe, Pa., Schall earned his degree in the teaching option of the exercise and sport science curriculum in 1994. He is the second generation of Schalls to enter the volleyball coaching profession as he played for his father, Richard, at Derry Area High School.

Schall's brothers Jim (1988-92) and Dan (1995-99) are also Penn State graduates and were members of the men's volleyball squad. Jim is the head girls and boys volleyball coach at Penn Trafford High School in the Pittsburgh area. Dan is now the head girls and boys volleyball coach at North Allegheny High School, taking the place of Bob Miller, Penn State assistant coach Julie Miller's father.

Schall is married to the former Sarah Curtis. The couple took their vows on May 30, 1998, in State College and have a daughter, Annabelle Joy, who was born on Jan. 30, 2002.

ASSISTANT COACH JULIE MILLER

Assistant Coach

Julie MILLER

2nd Year at Penn State

Alma Mater: Penn State, 1992

The newest member of the Penn State women's volleyball staff, Julie Miller, is entering her second season in Happy Valley following stints at the University of Houston and the College of William & Mary.

Miller, who graduated from Penn State in 1992 and earned her Master's degree in Speech Science from Penn State in 1995, was an assistant coach at the University of Houston before joining the Nittany Lion staff last season. Prior to her time with the Cougars, Miller was the top assistant at William & Mary from 1995-1998.

During her tenure at Houston, Miller's primary duties included acting as recruiting coordinator, academic monitor, conducting the strength and conditioning program in addition to assisting with daily practice and team training. Her area of specialty with the Cougars was working with the team's setters and defensive specialists. In 1999, Houston finished third overall in Conference USA before earning an NCAA Tournament berth in 2000 following a 21-11 campaign, which included an 11-5 mark versus Conference USA foes.

"Julie is a great communicator and a no nonsense sort of person," noted head coach Russ Rose. "Julie has a good feel for what we want at Penn State and Penn State women's volleyball. She has two degrees from here and is a very proud alum of the university.

"I'M A BIG BELIEVER IN RECRUITING PEOPLE WHO WANT TO BE HERE, AND NOBODY WANTED TO BE HERE MORE THAN JULIE."

-HEAD COACH RUSS ROSE

"She came in last year and hit the ground running. I'm a big believer in recruiting people who want to be here, and nobody wanted to be here more than Julie."

Miller played for Rose's Nittany Lions during the 1988 season before an injury interrupted her career. During her rehabilitation, Miller served as a student assistant coach (1989-91). Miller returned to action in 1992 to finish her eligibility and was a member of that year's Big Ten Championship squad.

A graduate of Pittsburgh's North Allegheny High School, Miller was a WPIAL first-team selection during her junior and senior seasons. She also competed in the Keystone State Games in 1986 and 1987.

Prior to her coaching experience at William & Mary, Miller was the assistant coach for both the boy's and girl's squad at North Allegheny High School. She helped to lead the North Allegheny girl's squad to a state championship in 1994.

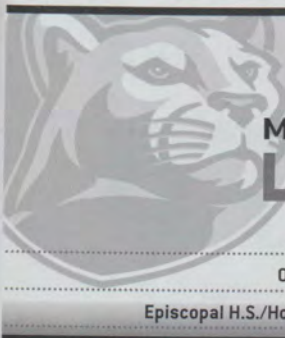

The Pittsburgh native earned Atlantic 10 and Big Ten All-Academic honors during her playing career at Penn State. Miller's brother, Brian, was a member of Penn State's men's volleyball national championship squad in 1994.

Miller's father, Bob, was the head volleyball coach at North Allegheny in Pittsburgh for 35 years before recently retiring.

1998 (Freshman): Redshirt season.

High School: A four-year starter at middle hitter for Episcopal High School ... captained the Knights for her junior and senior seasons ... named to Volleyball Magazine's 1998 "Fab 50" team ... three-time first-team All-Greater Houston selection ... All-Southwest Prep Conference pick each of her four years ... varsity MVP in '95-'96 ... Scholar-Athlete of the Week in October of 1997 ... second-team All-American in '97-'98 ... led team to four consecutive Southwest Prep titles ... also participated in basketball and track for a year ... earned honorable mention all-conference honors as a center on the hoops team ... member of Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

Personal: Born Mishka Leleith Levy on Sept. 25, 1979 in Houston, Texas ... parents are Leleith and Steve ... has one sister, Patricia (31) ... is studying to become a gerontologist (the study of aging) ... names "Coming to America" as favorite movie, The Bible as favorite book and Jamaica as favorite place to visit.

Quoting Coach Rose: "Mishka is certainly one of the key players now, not only for us, but in the conference. We are optimistic that Mishka is going to give her senior year the best focus and attention that she can and try to go out on a high note. She has played middle and left side, so some of the things that have occurred in her career have been out of her control because the team dictated that we needed to place her in a different position. Mishka has great vision as a player and has played for a long time and understands the importance of the role that she has as a primary attacker. Right now, she is our best returning attacker and the challenge will be how she handles it, recognizing that every other team knows it as well. She is going to have additional responsibilities because she has to be able to not only carry the team, but carry the team against opponents who are smart enough to know that she is going to be getting the largest number of swings."

Levy's Expectations: "This season I expect to play hard, play as a team, to win the Big Ten Championship and to do a lot better than we did last season."

THE 2002 NITTANY LIONS

High School: Lettered two years at Crystal Lake Central before transferring to Prairie Ridge High School ... was a two-year starter and captain ... a "Fab 50" selection by Volleyball Magazine ... a three-time all-conference selection ... named MVP her junior and senior years ... Chicago Tribune second-team all-state honoree ... named Player of the Year by the Northwest Herald ... voted all-area by Chicago Sun-Times ... team won the Fox Valley Conference Championship her senior year.

Personal: Full name is Hilary Lynne Sexton on Sept. 6, 1980, in Elgin, Ill. ... parents are Richard and Connie ... has two younger brothers, Ricky (18) and Max (16) ... her father played basketball at the University of Dubuque ... names "Gone With The Wind" as favorite movie, "Tuesdays With Morrie" as favorite book and New Orleans as favorite place to visit.

Quoting Russ Rose: "Hilary is a multi-purpose player for us because if we need to put Hilary in as a hitter, we can do that. She was one of the top hitters when she came out of high school. The libero position is truly custom made for Hilary as it's an opportunity for her to pass and be involved in all of the plays. It's a great opportunity for her to play defense and demonstrate her quickness and volleyball savvy. She is a very bright girl both in the classroom and on the court. What I think is important is that Hilary has a solid year from a leadership standpoint along with keeping her game at a high level. As the libero, you need to be focused and be a player that is ready to play every rally and not get caught up in any of the distractions that normally can be thrown your way. A great deal of our success will depend on Hilary's performance."

Sexton's Expectations: "Since we're going to have several new players, it's really going to depend on how preseason goes. My expectations are that they come in ready to play. I expect that we have a team that will work hard, so we're ready to go and we're going to be better than last year. I think we've all grown up and matured a lot as players, so when it comes down to it, the leadership and team camaraderie is going to be better as well."

Quoting Russ Rose: "Emily has good ball-handling skills. I'm hoping she takes a more active leadership role on the team this season. She has our highest grade point average (3.82) and she wants to be a teacher. What she needs to say is 'where can I make the greatest contribution?' In my opinion, the greatest contribution Emily can make is by monitoring and mentoring everyone and keeping them on task and working hard. Her contributions might be more behavioral and less physical, but that is what we need. I have great confidence in Emily as a leader."

Gerega's Expectations: "I expect us to be a lot better and more cohesive as a team than we were last year. We really struggled with that and it's something we've worked on for this year."

High School: ... Mother McAuley H.S.

Major: Elementary Education

Club Volleyball Team: Sports Performance

Birthday: Oct. 4, 1980

THE 2002 NITTANY LIONS

High School: Helped her Mother McAuley team to the 1997 Class AA State Championship ... named to Volleyball Magazine's "Fab 50" ... was an AAU All-American ... won the 1998 Nike Challenge Champions ... honored as Southtown Player of the Week in her junior and senior seasons ... a three-time all-conference and two-time all-county selection ... ended career with 326 blocks--second on the all-time charts ... named all-area by Sun Times ... garnered Most Valuable Player honors at the Rich East Tournament ... a high school All-American by Student Sports Magazine in 1998 ... named Rookie-of-the-Year as a freshman at Trinity Prep ... an all-tournament team selection at the Keswick Tournament and second-team all-state as a sophomore ... played club ball for Sports Performance where she was captain during the 1998-99 season ... went 36-2 in her final two years ... team finished third at 1998 nationals in Dallas ... Guokas was also a member of the G.C.A.C. All-Academic Team.

Personal: Born Robyn Joan Guokas on Oct. 4, 1980, in Atlantic City, N.J. ... parents are Matthew and Barbara ... comes from very athletic family ... her grandfather Matthew Guokas Sr. played basketball for the Philadelphia Warriors where he won an NBA Championship during the 1946-47 season, while her father Matthew Jr. had a 10-year NBA career (1966-76), including stints with the Philadelphia 76ers, Chicago Bulls, Cincinnati, Kansas City, Houston Rockets and Buffalo Braves ... Uncle Al played in the NBA for the Philadelphia Warriors and Denver Nuggets ... older brother Matthew III (St. Joseph's) and Christopher (Rollins College) also played collegiate basketball ... lists "Shallow Hal" as favorite movie, "Garden of Lies" as favorite book and the beach as favorite place to visit.

Quoting Russ Rose: "One of the biggest problems we had last year was that we had no lead-up time to deal with the loss of Robyn. Robyn might be one of our most complete players. There are not a lot of 6-3 players that can move as fluidly as she does in the front row and more importantly, the back row. She has great ball handling skills and everything about Robyn this year is going to be based on how she handles some of the challenges associated with her illness. We are blessed that she wants to play and that she wants to be in the gym working hard and being a part of the team. I think the year away from volleyball reiterated to her how important it was to her and I think she will be someone we can count on to do some specific tasks to help the team. It is important to recognize that Robyn led the Big Ten in blocking as a sophomore and the rally score game places a large premium on blocking -- welcome back!"

Guokas' Expectations: "It's going to be interesting because we have a lot of new people coming in and hopefully they're going to make a huge impact on the team. As long as we have a concrete group that is out there playing hard, we're going to do very well."

PERSONAL INFORMATION

Full Name: Cara Starr Smith	Birthplace: Lafayette, Ind.
Parents: Ed & Rebecca	High School: Harrison H.S.
Major: Business Accounting	Club Volleyball Team: Circle City
Birthday: Nov. 17, 1981

THE 2002 NITTANY LIONS

High School: A four-year starter at middle hitter and three-time captain at Harrison High School ... was a member of the Junior National Team in the summer of 1999 ... led high school team to a school-record 31 wins, sectional and regional championships and state final four appearance in 1998 ... played in the 2000 Indiana State All-Star Games in both volleyball and basketball ... also letter four years in basketball and one in track.

Personal: Born Cara Starr Smith on Nov. 17, 1981, in Lafayette, Ind. ... parents are Ed and Rebecca ... has one brother, Paul [22] ... majoring in business accounting ... names "My Best Friend's Wedding" as favorite movie and home as favorite place to visit.

Quoting Russ Rose: "Cara needs to have a year where she steps back into the picture as one of the premier players in the conference. As a freshman she had some real good flashes and then last year she was in a bit of a sophomore slump. Cara is a very bright student-athlete. She works hard every day and I know she is competitive and likes to get into the mix, which is very good. Hopefully, the experience of her sophomore year will be motivating to her to get her to do the things she has to do to make a larger contribution. I believe she is willing to make the commitment to have the type of career we want for her, and hopefully she wants for herself. She is a key player for us because she has started for two years, knows the conference opponents and she knows the system. Her greatest strength is her quickness and her desire to succeed. We will need Cara to provide additional leadership and feed off her emotion."

Smith's Expectations: "We're going to be a young team but we're going to be very competitive. We have a strong class coming in and the returning players have experience, so hopefully we will be able to lead the younger players and have a successful season."

THE 2002 NITTANY LIONS

Personal: Born Tabitha Rae Eshleman on Feb. 8, 1982 in Waynesboro, Pa. ... parents are Rod and Kim ... has three sisters, Amy (19), Andrea (16) and Courtney (12) and one brother, Stephan (13) ... majoring in kinesiology with an emphasis in science and medicine ... names "Pretty Woman" as favorite movie and "The Oath" as favorite book.

Quoting Russ Rose: "I thought Tab had a good freshman season last year. She played well in a lot of tough situations and was our first backrow sub, giving her a lot of experience. With the rally scoring format she needs to develop a serve that can get her on the floor and provide us some opportunities to score more points. Tab is a confident player who has an exceptional volleyball IQ in that she knows where she's supposed to be and plays hard. She is a person that is proud to be a collegiate athlete and demonstrates it every day. She is a very special young lady."

Eshleman's Expectations: "I expect to come together as a team and step it up to the level that we need to be playing at. We really need to push ourselves hard to get back to where the program previously was."

THE 2002 NITTANY LIONS

Personal: Born Ashley Nicole Pederson on March 5, 1983 in Sioux Falls, S.D. ... parents are Doug and Linda ... has two brothers, Jason (31) and Brian (22) and two sisters, Leslie (29) and Erin (23) ... is majoring in special education ... names favorite movie as "I Am Sam" and favorite place to visit as Minneapolis.

Quoting Russ Rose: "Ashley needs to continue to learn the myriad of demands placed on student-athletes at the collegiate level. Her freshman year was a transitional year from all the success she had in high school basketball and volleyball. The freshman year is a tough year for some people, and hers was a tough year. Physically, Ashley is one of our best athletes. We need her to focus on getting stronger and attacking the volleyball to give us another offensive force we will need to compete at a high level. She is the type of player that can play either left or right side, so she might be one of the people that has the opportunity to get some swings on the right side. Ashley plays hard, and that's what we liked when we recruited her."

Pederson's Expectations: "We've been working a lot on our teamwork and chemistry, so I hope this season we don't let so many little things hold us back from what we're capable of accomplishing."

High School: A four-year starter at Roosevelt High ... led team to South Dakota state championship in 2000 ... earned first-team all-state honors in each of her last three seasons ... ended her prep career as Roosevelt's all-time leader in kills and aces ... also posted the highest hitting percentage in the school's history at .452 ... was chosen to participate in the 1998 Colorado Olympic Training and was a Youth National Team alternate in 1998 and 1999 ... also enjoyed a highly successful basketball career as she led the Roosevelt hoops squad to 83-consecutive wins and four-straight state titles ... Volleyball Magazine Fab 50 selection ... honored as the 2001 Gatorade Player of the Year.

HUISENGA
5-6 • 5th/Sr.
Defensive Specialist
Marian Catholic H.S./Oak Forest, Ill.

Lion Career

2001 (Junior): Did not see game action.

2000 (Sophomore): Was one of the Lions' top backrow players ... set a career-high with six digs in the Lions' season opener vs. No. 1 UCLA at the NACWAA Classic ... saw action in a total of 22 matches on the season ... posted an ace at Wisconsin (9/22) and at Illinois (11/24) ... appeared in the Lions' loss in the Pacific Regional final at Southern California (12/8).

1999 (Redshirt-Freshman): A backrow player whose first appearance came against Akron and played in all three matches of the Penn State Classic ... also played two games against Bradley (9/4) and one against Maryland (9/4) ... played one game against West Virginia where she had an ace ... saw action vs Northwestern (10/30) where she played one game ... played one game at Indiana (11/6).

1998 (Freshman): Redshirt season.

High School: A three-year starter for Marian Catholic ... named a captain her senior season ... led squad to conference title each of her four years ... Spartans advanced to Sweet 16 in 1996 and were regional champions each of the last two seasons ... MVP of Maria Invitational in 1994.

Personal: Born Tina Elizabeth Huisenga on June 9, 1980, in Battle Creek, Mich. ... parents are Clarence and Iris ... has two brothers, Justin (25) and Owen (16) ... older brother Justin played semi-pro soccer in Amsterdam, Holland from 1995-96 ... majoring in telecommunications ... lists favorite movie as "Emperor's New Groove" and favorite place to visit as home.

Quoting Russ Rose: "Tina is one of our hardest working backrow players. There are not many players that you see that go into the gym and just work on their serves. Tina gives her all and she recognizes her opportunity to play in a very limited role, but she works hard to try and improve in that area."

Huisenga's Expectations: "I expect for the team to play as a group and to work together on and off the court to accomplish our goals."

Academic All-Big Ten

2000

Academic All-Big Ten

Will miss part of the season due to a knee injury sustained in the spring.

Lion Career

2001 (Sophomore): Academic All-Big Ten ... saw action in seven games and seven matches ... attempted one attack and had one dig vs. Loyola (Md.) (9/1) ... saw action vs. George Mason (9/7) ... saw limited action vs. Illinois (9/22) and at Ohio State (9/26) ... tallied one kill on three attacks vs. Youngstown State (10/9) ... saw limited action vs. Iowa (10/13) ... posted an assist in one game at Michigan (10/20).

2000 (Redshirt Freshman): Appeared in six matches and seven games overall ... made collegiate debut in season-opener vs. UCLA at NACWAA (8/25) and finished with one assist ... posted four kills on nine swings vs. Navy (9/9) ... recorded two kills versus Eastern Kentucky (9/16) ... came up with two digs versus Northwestern (11/10).

1999 (Freshman): Redshirt season.

High School: A three-year starter and four-year letterwinner in basketball and volleyball at Wooster ... was the 1998 Gatorade Circle of Champions Ohio Player of the Year ... also named one of Volleyball Magazine's "Fab 50" ... team captain for both her senior year ... a two-time District IV and Federal League First Team Selection ... played in the 1998 Volleyball All-State game ... also honored as Player of the Year for both in 1998 ... named the 1998 Daily Record Player of the Year ... tallied a 100-9 record in four years while winning four Federal League and District IV titles ... added two regional championships (1995 & '96) and Final Four appearances (1995 & '96) ... team was state runner-up in 1995 ... a first-team Federal League and District IV selection in basketball ... also an All-Ohio Special Mention in 1998 ... team won four league and district championships ... was the state runner-up in 1996 ... also a member of the National Honor Society.

Personal: Born Erin Linn Iceman on Sept. 27, 1980 in Wooster, Ohio ... parents are Tom and Kathy ... majoring in elementary education ... names "Legally Blonde" as favorite movie and the mountains as favorite place to visit.

Quoting Russ Rose: "Erin was our best player in the spring and that's why it was such a significant accident with her injuring her knee. No one is going to work harder to get back than 'Ice.' I'm still puzzled by the thought of why a bad thing would happen to such a good person, because there is no finer person than Erin. She is committed to the team and has been, in my opinion, the hardest working player we have had the last couple of years. I wish her only a healthy return to the sport and to a normal life as well. I have expectations for her to become more vocal and accept an additional leadership position with this team while she continues rehabilitation."

Iceman's Expectations: "We have a lot of new people coming in and we're really striving to get back in the right direction by working hard and improving every day."

Cegep Beauce-Appalaches H.S./St. Georges, Quebec

Lion Career

2001 (Freshman): Appeared in four matches and averaged 2.14 kills per game through seven games ... posted four kills on nine attacks for a .222 hitting percentage in first action of collegiate career versus Youngstown State (10/9) ... made first career start versus Northwestern (10/26) and totaled seven kills and seven digs in 3-0 win ... tallied four kills and two digs in upset of No. 5 Wisconsin (10/27) ... saw limited time after opening as starter vs. Ohio State (10/31).

High School: Named the Athlete of the year at Cegep Beauce Appalaches in 1998 ... member of the 1999 all-star team at the Canadian Eastern Cup ... was a two-time all-star (1998-99) of the AAA Collegial League ... member of the 1999 Quebec Provincial Team ... nominated for the rookie of the year award of the Quebec Volleyball Federation in 1999 ... three-time member of high school all-star team ... member of 1998 all-star team in juvenil AAA ... member of the 1997 all-star team at the Quebec Games ... played club volleyball at Condors elites de Beauce.

Personal: Born Syndie Nadeau on March 25, 1981, in Quebec, Canada ... parents are Yvan and Doris ... has one sister, Krystel (17) and one brother, Pier-Louis (15) ... is majoring in electrical engineering ... names "A Beautiful Mind" as favorite movie and Quebec City as favorite place to visit.

Quoting Russ Rose: "Syndie had a good transition year. We were at one point thinking of redshirting her, but we felt she needed to play. Syndie has a great feel for the game and is a mature competitor. She brings a good flavor to the team. Syndie provides a lot of positive things and I thought she did well in the spring. She is a good volleyball player and a good athlete. She needs to use her experience and her competitive intelligence to have success and we will depend on her experience as a player who always compete hard."

Nadeau's Expectations: "Obviously I expect to win, that's what I came here for. I would like to go as far as we can, all the way to the National Championship."

Marquette University/Silver Spring, Md.

Marquette University/High School: Is transferring to Penn State after playing one year for Marquette University in Milwaukee, Wis., where she was named to the Conference USA All-Freshman team and earned Conference USA Player of the Week honors ... played in 109 games at outside hitter for the Golden Eagles, averaging 0.35 blocks per game and 3.36 kills per game while hitting .224 ... graduated from Springbrook High in Silver Spring, Md. in 2001 ... team captain for the Blue Devils while earning four varsity letters ... two-time Player of the Year by the Montgomery Journal and the Gazette News ... two-time first team all-county ... Most Valuable Female Athlete senior year.

Personal: Born Jennifer N. Amobi on March 22, 1983 in Washington, D.C. ... mother is Evangeline ... has three brothers, Anthony (23), Franklin (15) and Jermaine (8) and two sisters, Nnenna (22) and Jacqueline (20) ... sister Nnenna played volleyball for the University of Georgia and the University of Maryland ... names the Boston Celtics as favorite pro sports team, "Matilda" by Roald Dahl as favorite book and both "He Got Game" and "Training Day" as favorite movies.

Why I Chose Penn State: "I have always wanted to attend Penn State. I love the coaching staff, the location and the community."

Quoting Russ Rose: "Jennifer is a player who we are going to seek some contributions from this year. It's going to be a transition year for her coming from Marquette and the system they use to coming to Penn State and being with a new system and group of people. Jen is a very physical player and we are going to have to work to find the best place to implement her, whether it's as an outside hitter or a middle hitter. She likes to swing at the ball and we need to provide opportunities for her to be able to highlight her strengths."

Amobi's Expectations: "I'm hoping to have a strong, great season and for the team to be NCAA Champions again."

High School: Ten-time letterwinner at Allentown Central Catholic high school in Allentown, Pa. (4-volleyball, 4-basketball, 2-track) ... was named volleyball team captain as a senior for the Vikings ... led team to four-straight East Penn conference championships (1998-2001) ... 2001 District XI champions ... 2001 Pennsylvania State 3A Champions ... also led her basketball team to two state championships in 2000 and 2001 ... recipient of the Who's Who award, the All-American scholar award, the National English Merit Award, the United States National Leadership Merit Award ... nominee for the Wendy's High School Heisman Trophy.

Personal: Born Emily Michelle Guman on March 14, 1984 in Fullerton, Calif. ... parents are Michael and Karen ... has one brother, Andrew (20) and three sisters, Joan (15), Becky (12) and Abbey (9) ... brother Andrew is a sophomore safety on the Penn State football team ... both mother Karen and father Michael attended Penn State ... Michael played football and baseball for the Nittany Lions from 1976-1979 and went on to play professional football for the Los Angeles Rams from 1980-1989 ... names Mike Bibby and Sue Bird as favorite athletes, "Harry Potter" as favorite book and both "Love & Basketball" and "Remember the Titans" as favorite movies.

Why I Chose Penn State: "I have grown up a Penn State fan as both of my parents went there and we would always attend football games. I was bred Blue and White, but it was ultimately my decision to attend Penn State for both the athletics and education."

Quoting Russ Rose: "Emily comes from a family that values academics as well as athletics, from the success that her father had as a college and professional football player to all of the siblings being involved in athletics. The family is very supportive and all of the children play hard and make great contributions to the teams they are on. It's an athletic family but what is also so interesting is that it is obviously a family that values the experiences they have had at Penn State. Because of that, I believe that when you get players who desire to be here, you are going to be rewarded for that. I like the way Emily plays. She is going to be valuable as a backup setter and a backrow player, and once she determines which areas she needs to focus on, I wouldn't be surprised to see Emily put some pressure on people."

Guman's Expectations: "I expect to work hard this year and as a team I expect to work as a group for success."

Middle Hitter

St. Charles East H.S./St. Charles, Ill.

High School: Volleyball Magazine "Fab 50" selection ... two-time volleyball letterwinner at St. Charles East High School in St. Charles, Ill. ... led the Fighting Saints to a 41-2 record in 2001 en route to titles in the Upstate Eight conference, regionals, sectionals and the Illinois State Championship ... team was also conference, regional and sectional champions in 2000 ... member of the Sports Performance 18-1 team for three seasons, winning the AAU gold medal in 1999, 2000 and 2001 ... 2002 AAU All-American ... bronze medalist at the 2000 and 2002 Junior Olympic National Championship ... member of the USA Junior National Volleyball Championship team that won the bronze medal in 1999 ... also participated in an international tournament in China against China, Japan and Korea, earning a gold medal ... selected All-Upstate Eight Conference in 2000 and 2001 ... also named Academic All-Upstate Eight Conference those same years ... 2001 Chicago Sun-Times and Daily Herald all-area and Chicago Tribune special mention ... member of the National Honor Society, Math Honor Society and the Spanish Honor Society.

Personal: Born Kimberly Anne deLambert Holm on July 20, 1984 in Ithaca, N.Y. ... parents are John and Janine ... has one brother, Jeff (13) and one sister, Laura (15) ... father John played baseball for the California Angels in 1973 and for the University of Minnesota from 1971-73 ... grandfather Guy deLambert played basketball for the University of Minnesota in 1937 ... undecided in major ... names the Chicago Bulls as favorite pro sports team, "Cat's Cradle" as favorite book and "The Shawshank Redemption" as favorite movie.

Why I Chose Penn State: "The energetic atmosphere and warm people were phenomenal. Combined with the outstanding volleyball program, Penn State just felt right."

Quoting Russ Rose: "Kim has been the starting middle hitter for the Sports Performance club for three years, and there are not a lot of players who can do or say that. Kim is a bright player who has good skills, works hard, and who I think is going to be a real journeyman player. She is going to be a player on the floor when we beat some good teams because she knows what's going on and she has a good focus on the game. She is someone who is intelligent and doesn't get rattled by the surroundings, and she is going to continue to get better. Kim has the potential to play multiple positions, so even though she has been experienced as a middle hitter, I think she might have a future at one of the two outside positions."

Holm's Expectations: "I am looking forward to both the volleyball aspect as well as the development of relationships on and off the court that are only found within a team sport. I expect to help bring success to the team in any way I can and I understand the eminent tradition associated with Penn State volleyball and I anticipate being a part of its continuation."

Why I Chose Penn State: "I felt that it was the best place for me. I knew when I first visited that Penn State is where I wanted to be."

Quoting Russ Rose: "I look forward to coaching Amy. I look forward to my dealings with Amy because there are going to be days when I'm sure she and I will just be getting after each other. I don't think she has any idea of how hard it is. But that is sometimes the beauty of young players, they are oblivious to what the demands really are. Amy is a fierce competitor and I think a lot of her teammates will be able to latch onto the enthusiasm and the energy she possesses. She has good ball handling skills for a player with a large frame. I recruited Amy because I thought she was the most competitive player I saw, and I want players in our program that play hard."

Morris' Expectations: "I hope to make an impact and win a National Championship."

High School: Four-year volleyball letterwinner and one year softball letterwinner at Mt. Lebanon High School in Mt. Lebanon, Pa. ... 2000 and 2001 team captain for the Blue Devils ... three-time first team all-state, all-section and all-WPIAL selection ... WPIAL and PIAA State Champion in 2000 ... 2000 Youth National Team alternate ... named 2001 Student Sports All-American ... Almanac Volleyball MVP/Athlete of the Year finalist in 2000 and 2001 ... member of the 2001 All-Powerbar team ... selected to the all-tournament team at the 2001 Montour Tournament, also earned third place at states and WPIAL runners-up ... member of the all-tournament team at the Ohio State Invitational in 2000 ... Who's Who In Sports ... named Athlete of the Week by the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette in 2000 ... MVP of the 1999 Blackhawk Invitational, WPIAL Champion and state runners up ... second team all-state, all-WPIAL and state runners-up in 1998 ... also earned the PAC-Athlete of the Month award in softball in 1998, having the highest batting average and most stolen bases on the team ... National Honor Society member ... was on honor roll every semester of high school, with six semesters on the high honor roll.

Personal: Born Kaleena Jean Walters on Jan. 6, 1984 in Wintersville, Ohio ... parents are Tom and Kendra ... majoring in public relations or English ... names the Pittsburgh Steelers as favorite pro sports team, "To Kill A Mockingbird" as favorite book and "The Wizard of Oz" as favorite movie.

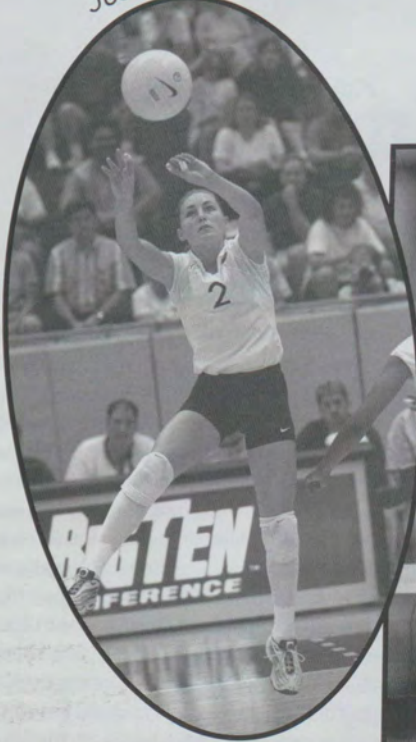

Why I Chose Penn State: "The combination of academics and athletics made me choose Penn State. The family-like atmosphere of the team also made me feel comfortable."

Quoting Russ Rose: "Kaleena is a player we have watched for a number of years and I've always wanted her to be a part of the Penn State program. She always has a smile on her face, is enthusiastic and plays hard. She has always been on successful teams and in many cases a great deal of the success has been her contribution to those groups. Kaleena is a player you like to build your program around as she has good physical tools, great enthusiasm and I know she is passionate about playing volleyball. Those are areas that we need to address on our team, and she is going to be an asset in those areas."

Walters' Expectations: "I hope to make a big impact on the team both emotionally and on the court, and I hope my role grows as the season goes on. As a team, I expect to be one of the top teams in the Big Ten and the nation, and to set ourselves up for success in the future also."

Nittany Lions By The Month

Penn State is 11-3 (.769) all-time during the month of August. Its first two losses came during the inaugural NACWAA in 1995 when Nebraska swept the Lions, and in the 1999 NACWAA when Florida outlasted Penn State 3-2 in the opening round. The Lions fell to UCLA in the first round of the NACWAA in 2000.

Penn State is 247-42-4 (.850) all-time during the month of September. Amazingly, the Lions are 77-5 during September dating back to the 1995 season.

The Lions are 301-56 (.843) all-time during the month of October. Penn State has posted a 33-2 mark in October over the last three seasons. Penn State's loss on Oct. 5, 2001 was its first October loss since Oct. 31, 1997 at Wisconsin, a span of 30 matches.

Penn State is 197-50 (.798) all-time during the month of November, including a 48-3 mark over the last five seasons. The Lions had not lost a match in November since 1995 but saw the streak snapped with a 3-2 setback at Minnesota during the 2000 season.

Quick Sets

- When taking a 2-0 lead, Penn State had won 139 consecutive matches but saw the streak end in a five-game loss on Nov. 9, 2001 at Illinois. The streak dated back to a loss at Ohio State on Oct. 16, 1996. Over the last six-plus seasons, Penn State has played 205 matches, winning 185. Amazingly, 142 of those 185 wins have been three game sweeps.

- Ten of Penn State's 22 opponents for the 2002 season have yet to record a win over the Lions, including Akron (0-3), New Hampshire (0-1), Fairfield (0-2), Morgan State (0-1), Villanova (0-10), Army (0-3), American (0-3), Yale (0-2), Indiana (0-24) and Iowa (0-22). The Lions have a combined 69-0 record versus these teams.

- Over the last six years, the Lions have lost only 21 matches. And of those 12 teams that defeated the Lions – Florida, Long Beach State, Michigan, Michigan State, Minnesota, Nebraska, Northwestern, Ohio State, Southern Cal, Stanford, UCLA and Wisconsin – only Michigan State, Minnesota, Ohio State, Stanford, UCLA and Wisconsin have been able to beat Penn State a second time. The Lions have compiled a 70-20 mark overall versus such opponents.

THE BIG TEN CONFERENCE

MISSION STATEMENT

The Big Ten Conference is an association of 11 world-class universities whose member institutions share a common mission of research, graduate, professional and undergraduate teaching and public service. Intercollegiate athletics has an important place within the mission.

Founded in 1896, the Big Ten has sustained a comprehensive set of shared practices and policies that enforce the priority of academics in student-athletes' lives and emphasize the values of integrity, fairness and competitiveness. Big Ten universities provide in excess of $63 million in athletic scholarship aid to more than 7,500 men and women student-athletes who compete for 25 championships, 12 for men and 13 for women. In total, Big Ten Conference institutions sponsor more than 250 athletic programs.

BIG TEN UNIVERSITIES...

- are members of the nation's only conference whose constituency is entirely composed of institutions that are members of the AAU, a prestigious association of major academic and research institutions in the United States and Canada.
- have more than 70 Nobel laureates as faculty, students or researchers.
- enroll students of whom over 41 percent have graduated in the top 10 percent of their high school class, while 74 percent graduated in the top quarter of their class.
- have more than 3,500,000 living alumni and over 320,000 undergraduate students attending Big Ten universities.
- typically receive more than 8,000 employers each year who conduct recruitment visits on Big Ten campuses.
- house on their campuses eight of the nation's 20 largest academic libraries. All of the Conference libraries are interconnected through an online library system (the Virtual Electronic Library).

ATHLETIC PROGRAMS IN THE BIG TEN CONFERENCE

- provide an avenue for more than 140,000 young men and women to pursue higher education while competing in sports.
- have, since 1992, created in excess of 1,100 new opportunities for women student-athletes and established 25 new women's teams.
- had more than 7,500 student-athletes playing on over 260 teams in 2000-01. Those student-athletes received in excess of $63 million in direct financial aid.
- graduate at a rate of 10 percent higher than all Division I student-athletes.
- annually recognized more than 1,300 student-athletes who achieved a "B" grade point average or better on the Academic All-Conference teams over the past six years, including a record total of 1,745 student-athletes during the 2000-01 school year.
- have won more than 185 team titles and 1,250 individual titles. In 1999-00, the Conference celebrated six NCAA team titles (men's soccer, women's volleyball, wrestling, men's basketball, fencing, men's gymnastics), the most for the Big Ten in the last 10 years.
- are some of the most competitive in the country. The Big Ten has placed four schools among the top 20 in the final Sears Directors' Cup standings, which annually recognizes the nation's top athletic programs, in six of the Cup's eight years of existence. That total includes a Conference-record five schools in the top 20 at the conclusion of 1999-2000.
- were all ranked among the top 29 in the country, including a No. 1 honor for Penn State, in a first-of-its-kind analysis by The Sporting News (September 1999) of all 112 Division I-A athletic programs (that play football and men's basketball).
- showcased more than 250 events that are televised nationally, regionally and locally last year, representing over 550 hours of programming.
- are among the national attendance leaders in football, men's and women's basketball, women's volleyball and wrestling. During the 2001-02 season, more than 7.5 million fans attended Big Ten home contests in those sports.

2001 HIGHLIGHTS

Penn State Advances to 21st Consecutive NCAA Tournament

With their 22-8 record during the 2001 season, the Nittany Lions advanced to their 21st consecutive NCAA Tournament. Penn State defeated first-round opponent Fairfield in three games but fell to UCLA in three in the second round. The exit after only two rounds marks the earliest departure from the NCAA Tournament under head coach Russ Rose, and is the only blemish on Penn State's 24-1 NCAA match record at Rec Hall.

THREE AND OUT

Penn State took the minimum three games in 14 of its 22 wins on the year, including six straight sweeps beginning at Northwestern on Oct. 6 and continuing until a three-game loss at Michigan on Oct. 20.

Katie Schumacher had 14 double-doubles in 2001, averaging 4.42 kills and 2.72 digs per game.

AMONG THE NATION'S ELITE

Since the NCAA Tournament started sponsoring volleyball in 1981, only four teams in the country have appeared in all 21 tournaments. Penn State joins Pacific, Stanford and UC Santa Barbara among the elite programs to accomplish this feat. The Nittany Lions have compiled an overall record of 37-20 (.649) in the tournament, including five trips to the NCAA Semifinal (1993, 1994, 1997, 1998, 1999).

NCAAS IN REC HALL = WINS

The Lions first earned the right to host the NCAA First and Second Rounds in 1981 – the tournament's first year of existence. That year they swept Cincinnati and haven't stopped winning since.

Penn State has hosted 25 tournament matches in Rec Hall and has lost only one of them. Of the 25 contests, 21 have been three-game sweeps. Only Wyoming (1986), Colorado (1991), Washington State (2000) and UCLA (2001) have even been able to take a game. The Bruins swept Penn State in three games while the Cowboys and Cougars forced the Lions to four games and the Buffaloes pushed Penn State to five games before falling. The Nittany Lions have hosted the first and second rounds of the NCAA Tournament 14 of the possible 21 years.

BAD LUCK BADGERS

Penn State's win over Wisconsin on Oct. 27 dropped the Badgers to 0-12 all-time at Rec Hall.

BIG TIME BIG TEN SUCCESS

Since joining the Big Ten Conference for the 1991 season, Penn State has racked up an impressive 190-30 record (.864 percentage) in conference matches--the best mark of any Big Ten team over that span. In 11 seasons, the Lions have never finished lower than third in the final standings and have shared or won six titles, including four straight from 1996-99.

DOMINATING THE BIG TEN AT HOME

Since joining the Big Ten in 1991, Penn State has posted a dominating record of 102-8 on its home court versus league foes. The Lions posted perfect 10-0 marks during each of the following seasons: 1992, 1993, 1996, 1997, 1998 & 1999. Penn State finished 8-2 at home in conference play during 2001, with losses to Ohio State and Michigan State.

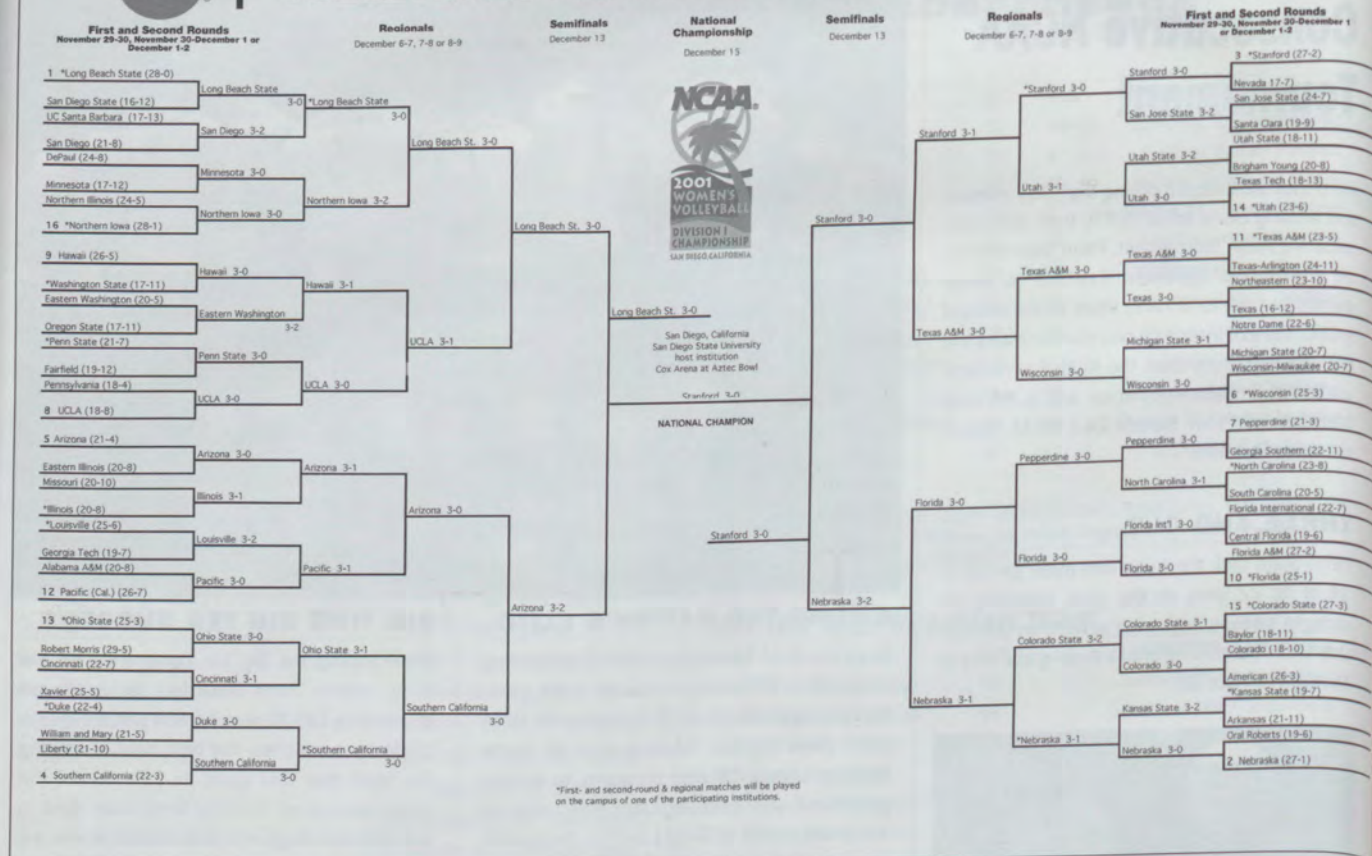

NITTANY LIONS STELLAR IN HOME OPENERS

Penn State has historically been very successful in its home openers. The Nittany Lions hold an overall mark of 24-2, including the 2001 win over Villanova, in initial home matches of the season. Penn State has won their last 13 home openers. The last home opening loss came against UC Santa Barbara on Sept. 18, 1986.

2001 HIGHLIGHTS

2001 Division I Women's VOLLEYBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

SCHUMACHER NAMED MVP OF PENN STATE INVITE

Katie Schumacher was named MVP of the Penn State Invitational after averaging 4.27 kills per game and 1.45 blocks per game while leading Penn State to a 3-0 mark. Her 24 kills vs. North Carolina were one shy of her career high set on Sept. 23 at Northwestern.

Senior middle hitter Nadia Edwards and sophomore middle hitter Cara Smith were also named to the Penn State Invitational all-tournament team.

Edwards averaged 2.82 kills while hitting .531 overall and Smith notched a team-best 1.88 blocks and 2.45 kills per game while hitting .434 overall over three games at the PSU Invitational.

Penn State improved to 30-0 all-time in matches at the Penn State Invitational.

DOMINATING THE CLASSIC

With its three wins over George Mason, UNC-Asheville and Rutgers during the 2001 Penn State Classic, the Lions improved to 37-1 all-time during the event.

NITTANY LION Stat

SINCE JOINING THE BIG TEN CONFERENCE FOR THE 1991 SEASON, PENN STATE HAS EARNED A TOTAL OF 30 FIRST TEAM ALL-BIG TEN SELECTIONS.

SCHUMACHER NAMED MVP OF PSU CLASSIC

Katie Schumacher was named Most Valuable Player of the Penn State Classic after averaging 4.93 kills per game and 3.73 digs per game. Sophomore Cara Smith and junior Shannon Bortner joined Schumacher on the Penn State Classic All-Tournament squad. Smith averaged 2.67 kills and 1.67 blocks per game during the event while hitting a team-best .430 overall.

FRESHMAN UPRISING

A pair of freshmen were key in Penn State's wins over Northwestern and Wisconsin, Oct. 26 and Oct. 27. Syndie Nadeau made the first two starts of her career versus the Wildcats and Badgers, tallying seven kills in the sweep of Northwestern and four kills in the five-game win over Wisconsin. Her classmate Ashley Pederson was the spark in the Lions' upset over the then-No. 5 Badgers as she posted eight kills, six of which came during the fourth and fifth games of the match.

STREAK ENDED

Penn State saw a long-standing streak end in the 3-2 loss at Illinois on Nov. 9, 2001. Dating back to a loss at Ohio State on Oct. 16, 1996, when winning the first two games of the match, Penn State went on to win 139 consecutive five-game matches. That streak ended when the Lions took the first two games from the Illini in Champaign and then failed to capitalize on the remaining games, losing 17-15 in game five.

20 WINS, 25 TIMES AND COUNTING

With its win at Iowa on Nov. 23, 2001, Penn State secured its 25th consecutive 20-plus win season in its 26-year history. The only year in which the Lions failed to reach the 20-win plateau was in 1976, the first year of the program, in which they played only 20 matches total and finished 6-11-3.

NITTANY LION Stat

PENN STATE IS ONE OF ONLY SIX SCHOOLS WHOSE WOMEN'S AND MEN'S VOLLEYBALL PROGRAMS HAVE CAPTURED AN NCAA TITLE.

STANFORD STRUGGLES

Penn State's team hitting percentage of .069 vs. eventual NCAA Champion Stanford on Sept. 4 marked its lowest single-match output in that category since the team registered a .068 mark in a loss at Wisconsin on Sept. 22, 2000.

The loss to the Cardinal represented only the Lions' second loss on its home court over its previous 104 home matches.

LEVY NAMED BIG TEN PLAYER OF THE WEEK

Penn State junior Mishka Levy was named the Big Ten Player of the Week for the period ending October 28. Levy paced the Lions to a 2-0 week during the span which included a 3-0 win over Northwestern and a come-from-behind win over then-No. 5 Wisconsin. The junior posted a season-high 21 kills in the win over the Wildcats before following up with 18 kills and 15 digs. her first double-double of the season, in the victory over the Badgers.

The junior currently ranks second on the squad in kills at 3.53 per game and is in need of only 40 put-aways to become the 13th Nittany Lion to total 1,000 in a career.

Levy was the only Nittany Lion to be honored by the conference in 2001.

SCHUMACHER & LEVY REACH 1,000 KILL PLATEAU

Katie Schumacher notched her 1,000th career kill in the Lions' 3-2 loss at Ohio State on Sept. 26. She became the 12th Nittany Lion to reach the milestone and ended her career with 1,310 kills, good for eighth on the all-time list.

In the last home match of the season, Mishka Levy also reached the 1,000 kill plateau during the Lions' 3-1 loss to Michigan State on Nov. 17 in Rec Hall. She sits in the 13th spot overall with 1,058 career tallies.

ACADEMIC HONORS

Seven Nittany Lions earned Academic All-Big Ten recognition following the 2001 season. Shannon Bortner, Tabitha Eshleman, Emily Gerega, Robyn Guokas, Erin Iceman and Hilary Sexton were honored by the conference for their achievements on and off the court. Since joining the Big Ten in 1991, Penn State has had 32 student-athletes earn 69 selections. As a university, Penn State leads the conference in all-time Academic All-Big Ten selections with 1,242 since the 1996-1997 school year.

Attendance: 4,629

Penn State Invitational

Recap The No. 3 Penn State women's volleyball team overcame a sluggish start to defeat Villanova 3-0 (30-24, 30-25, 30-13) in front of a season-opening crowd of 4,629 during the first night of the Penn State Invitational.

The Lions (1-0) fell behind 8-6 early in the first set, before out-scoring the Wildcats 24-16 behind a team-best six kills and three blocks by Sexton. Cara Smith and Katie Schumacher also notched three blocks apiece.

Villanova (0-1) fell 30-25 in game two despite out-hitting the Nittany Lions .270-.257. Sexton and Schumacher each committed a pair of hitting errors in the set for the Lions, who finished with a total of six as a team. The Wildcats got as close as 22-20 but the Lions responded with an 8-5 run to seal the set. Nadia Edwards paced Penn State in game two with four kills on six swings.

Schumacher notched three kills as Penn State jumped out to a quick 9-1 in game three. Villanova never got closer than 9-3 as the Lions sealed the win with a decisive 30-13 victory. Schumacher finished the final frame with five kills and Smith added a team-best six. The Lions hit .500 for the game while limiting Villanova to a -.057 clip.

Smith paced Penn State overall with 11 kills and a .556 hitting percentage. She also added a team-high seven blocks. Sexton was the only other Lion to finish with double figure kills at 10. The junior also excelled defensively as she led the squad with nine digs. Schumacher notched nine kills, six digs and six blocks.

Penn State out-blocked Villanova 13.5-1.0 for the match and out-hit the Wildcats .392-.119.

PENN STATE 1		Match 4
Stanford 3		September 4, 2001 Rec Hall University Park, Pa.
Attendance: 2,580

Recap No. 9 Stanford overcame a 1-0 deficit as it rallied to win three straight games to hand No. 4 Penn State a 3-1 (28-30, 30-26, 30-16, 30-23) loss. The defeat marks Penn State's first loss to a non-conference opponent since it dropped a match to Nebraska on Sept. 4, 1993, a span of 69 matches. The setback also represents the first time the Nittany Lions have dropped a match at Rec Hall in back-to-back seasons since 1994-1995.

Stanford (4-0) out-hit Penn State (3-1) for the match .211 to .069 and out-blocked the Lions 18.0 to 6.0. Penn State managed to out-dig the Cardinal in the loss 73-61.

The meeting between the two school's marked the first time they have faced since Penn State claimed a 3-0 decision over the Cardinal for the 1999 NCAA Championship in Honolulu.

Logan Tom paced Stanford in the win with a match-high 19 kills, 16 digs and five blocks. Ogonna Nnamani added a double-double with 16 kills and 11 digs, while Ashley Ivy notched 10 kills and 10 digs.

Katie Schumacher led Penn State in the loss with 17 kills and 16 digs. Hilary Sexton tabbed 11 kills and 11 digs. Defensively, Amanda Rome added 11 digs, while Tabitha Eshleman and Dawn Ippolito registered 10 each respectively.

Penn State rallied back from an 18-13 deficit in game one to claim a 30-28 victory. The Lions scored six straight points to turn a 18-13 Cardinal lead into a 19-18 Nittany Lion advantage. Stanford managed to tie the game on a number of occasions, but never reclaimed the lead as Mishka Levy led the Lions to the victory with a team-best six game one kills. The Lions defense also out-performed the Cardinal in the opening stanza, posting 20 digs to Stanford's 12.

The Cardinal took an early lead in game two at 10-6 behind the offensive duo of Tom and Nnamani. Tom opened the set with back-to-back winners, but Penn State managed a rally that eventually gave it a 24-22 lead. The Cardinal answered by running off eight of the next 10 points to claim the game 30-26. Nnamani led Stanford in game two with seven kills and a .538 hitting percentage.

Tom and the Cardinal stayed hot in game three as they cruised to a 30-16 win while hitting .250 overall and displaying a stifling defense that harassed the Nittany Lion offense with eight blocks and limited Penn State to a -.167 hitting percentage for the set.

Stanford wrapped up the win with a 30-23 game four win that was keyed by a balance offensive attack which saw a total of five Cardinal players finish the frame with multiple kills. Penn State jumped out to a 12-7 lead, but was unable to fend off Stanford, who scored 23 of the final 34 points to close the match.

Recap Katie Schumacher posted her sixth-straight double-double, as she totaled 18 kills and 10 digs, to lead No. 6 Penn State to a 3-1 (30-28, 24-30, 30-19, 30-20) win over Indiana in the Big Ten opener for both schools.

The win improved the Nittany Lions' record to 7-1 overall and 1-0 in the Big Ten. The loss dropped the Hoosiers to 3-5 overall and 0-1 versus league foes.

With the victory Penn State improved to 23-0 all-time versus Indiana. The Lions' game two loss to the Hoosiers marked the first time Penn State dropped a game to Indiana since October 22, 1997.

The Lions (7-1, 1-0) out-hit Indiana for the match .235 to .126 and posted 55 digs while the Hoosiers managed 44 55-44. Indiana won the battle at the net as it out-blocked Penn State 13-9.

The game marked the first match in 13 days for the Nittany Lions and the rust from the layoff was apparent in the beginning of the match. Penn State overcame a slow start offensively as it posted hitting percentages of .098 and .140 in the first two games respectively, but rebounded to notch a .323 clip in the third frame before recording a .441 percentage in game four.

Mishka Levy finished the match with 13 kills and two blocks. Cara Smith also finished with double-figure kills at 10, while hitting .364 overall, and added a team-high six blocks. Schumacher and Shannon Bortner led the defensive effort for Penn State with 10 digs apiece.

Indiana was paced in the loss by Christina Archibald, who posted a match-high 22 kills while hitting .500 (22-5-34) overall. Archibald also led the Hoosiers defensively with a team-best 10 digs. Monique Pritz rounded out the Indiana attack with 12 kills. Karla Crose and Pritz also tallied seven blocks each in the loss while Melissa Brewer added six.

Recap Katie Schumacher (Chicago, Ill.) and Cara Smith (Lafayette, Ind.) combined for 32 of Penn State's 56 kills as the No. 6 Nittany Lions swept Illinois 3-0 (30-22, 30-21, 30-21) on Saturday night at Rec Hall before a crowd of 3,117.

The victory improves Penn State's record to 8-1 overall and 2-0 versus Big Ten foes. Illinois falls to 6-3 overall and 0-2 in the Big Ten following the loss.

Penn State (8-1, 2-0) out-hit Illinois .336 to .137 for the match and out-dug the Illini 49 to 38. Illinois managed to win the battle at the net as it posted 11 blocks, led by Lydia Gard and Sue Webber, who recorded six and five respectively. The Nittany Lions tallied seven blocks in the win.

Schumacher finished the match with a team-high 18 kills while hitting .306 overall. The senior outside hitter is in need of only two kills to reach the 1,000 kill milestone for her career. Smith added 14 kills while registering a .545 (14-2-22) hitting percentage.

The Lions limited Illinois to a .122 hitting percentage as a team in the opening frame while posting a figure of .349 on their offensive attack. Schumacher posted a team-best six game one kills and Smith added five.

Penn State trailed only briefly in the second set after the Illini registered the frame's first point to claim a 1-0 edge. That turned out to be the only lead as Penn State exploded offensively in game two by hitting .436 overall as it committed four errors on 39 swings.

Schumacher provided most of the offense as she netted 10 game two kills while posting a .667 (10-2-12) hitting percentage to lead the Lions to the 30-21 win.

The Lions didn't waste any time in game three as it jumped out to a 15-5 edge behind three kills and a block by Smith. Illinois never was bale to get any closer than 15-7 as Penn State went on to close out the match with a convincing 30-21 win.

Jess Hayden (South Laguna Beach, Calif.) directed a consistent Nittany Lion offensive attack with 41 assists. The sophomore setter also added six kills on eight errorless swings and a team-high three aces. Shannon Bortner (Jacobus, Pa.) paced the Lions' defensive effort with a match-high 11 digs.

Gard led Illinois in the loss with 11 kills and six blocks. Shadia Haddad added 10 kills and seven digs while Lauren Harks also notched seven digs in defeat.

PENN STATE	2	Match 10
Ohio State	3	September 26, 2001 St. John Arena Columbus, Ohio
Attendance: 931

Recap No. 6 Penn State dropped a five-game match at No. 15 Ohio State 3-2 (30-24, 28-30, 28-30, 31-29, 15-11) on Wednesday night in Columbus. Penn State senior Katie Schumacher recorded her 1,000th kill during game one to become the 12th Nittany Lion in the history of the program to reach the 1,000 kill plateau and the first since Lauren Cacciamani accomplished it in 1998.

The loss drops Penn State to 8-2 overall and 2-1 in the Big Ten, while Ohio State improves to 11-0 overall and 3-0 versus Big Ten foes.

The win marked Ohio State's first over Penn State since Oct. 16, 1996, a span of 10 matches.

The Buckeyes out-hit the Nittany Lions for the match .257 to .212 and out-dug Penn State 63-61. The Lions managed to out-block Ohio State 13-7 in the loss. Ohio State committed 22 service errors for the match, while Penn State recorded eight serving miscues.

Ohio State came out strong and after a Nittany Lion timeout, increased their advantage to 10-0 before Schumacher got Penn State on the board with her first kill of the night. She then recorded her second kill of the frame, which marked the 1,000th of her career, to make the score 10-2, but the Buckeyes were too much, posting a 30-24 game one victory.

Penn State managed to hold off Ohio State down the stretch in the second game as it clinched the 30-28 game two win via a solo block by Nadia Edwards.

Game three once again saw Ohio State dominate early as it opened a 10-3 lead. The Penn State offense, led by Schumacher and Cara Smith, rallied to knot the game at 16-16. Penn State finally gained control of the set for good by scoring five-of-seven points to stake a 27-24 lead and go on to the win.

The Buckeyes forced the match into a decisive fifth-set when an attempt by Penn State's Levy sailed wide to give Ohio State a 31-29 win.

The Lions didn't trail in game five until the 8-7 mark. Ohio State increased its lead to two points at 10-8 but the Lions scored three of the next four points to knot the set at 11-11. The Buckeyes were too strong down the stretch however as they answered by out-scoring the Lions 4-1 over the duration to claim the set 15-12.

Schumacher paced the Penn State offense with a career-best 27 kills to go along with a team-best 16 digs. Levy added 12 kills, while Smith notched nine and six blocks to round out Penn State's leaders. Jess Hayden directed the offense with 51 assists.

Attendance: 2,306

Recap Nadia Edwards posted a career-high 15 kills to lead No. 6 Penn State to a 3-0 (30-26, 30-16, 30-23) win over Big Ten foe Purdue on Saturday night at Rec Hall. Edwards led a Nittany Lion offensive attack that recorded an overall hitting percentage of .365 for the match while limiting Purdue to a .180 clip. Penn State out-blocked the Boilermakers 54-46 and out-blocked them 12-3 in the win.

The victory improves Penn State to 9-2 overall and 3-1 versus Big Ten foes. Purdue falls to 1-9 with the loss and 1-3 in Big Ten matches.

"It was a good match to get back and play after the disappointment of our match at Ohio State on Wednesday night," Penn State head coach Russ Rose said. "I don't think we played all that sharp early, but we showed flashes and executed our game plan of getting the middles involved more."

Fellow middle hitter Cara Smith also contributed some front-line offense for Penn State as she totaled 10 kills and seven blocks while hitting .450 overall. Edwards notched a .609 hitting percentage and four blocks to go along with her career-best kill effort.

"I felt that me and Jess [Hayden] were connecting well and that is always a key for a middle and a setter to consistently produce offensively," Edwards said.

Katie Schumacher capped off her eighth double-double of the season in the win as she tallied 13 kills and 13 digs. Shannon Bortner led the Lions' defensive effort with a team-best 14 digs in addition to a career-best four service aces. Amanda Rome added 10 digs to round out the Penn State defensive leaders. Jess Hayden directed a consistent Nittany Lion offense that included three players with double-figure kill totals.

Purdue was paced in the loss by Lyndsey Phillips who recorded eight kills on 17 errorless swings for a .471 hitting percentage. Maegan Petersen added eight kills and 11 digs.

Wisconsin	3	October 5, 2001 UW Field House Madison, Wis.
Attendance: 4,438

Recap No. 10 Penn State dropped a 3-0 (30-23, 30-19, 30-21) decision at No. 6 Wisconsin on Friday night at the UW Field House before a crowd of 4,438 in Madison, Wis.

The loss drops Penn State to 9-3 overall and 3-2 versus Big Ten foes. Wisconsin improves to 11-2 overall and 5-0 in the Big Ten.

The Nittany Lions' setback marks the first time they have lost to Wisconsin in back-to-back seasons.

Wisconsin out-hit Penn State for the match .398-.222. Defensively, the Badgers out-dug the Nittany Lions 46-26 and out-blocked them 10-3.

Penn State opened the match by claiming a 2-1 lead over Wisconsin in game one. It would be their only lead of the set, as the Badgers would claim the 30-23 win. Both squads struggled offensively in the first stanza as Wisconsin recorded a .150 hitting percentage, while Penn State posted an average of .093. Mishka Levy paced the Lions in game one with a team-high four kills while hitting .571 overall.

Wisconsin came out strong the game two as it opened a 10-3 advantage behind three kills from Sherisa Livingston and a pair by both Lisa Zukowski and Lori Rittenhouse. The Badgers went on to score 10 of the next 16 points to increase their lead to 21-9 and force a Penn State timeout. The Lions made an attempt to rally late as Jess Hayden served back-to-back aces to make the score 29-19, but a blocking error by Levy sealed the 30-19 win for Wisconsin. The Badgers recorded a .541 hitting percentage for the frame, while limiting the Lions to a .263 clip. Katie Schumacher and Levy tallied four apiece to lead Penn State.

The Badgers kept the momentum in game three as they never trailed in the set after staking out to an early 16-8 lead en route to a 30-21 match-clinching victory.

Levy paced Penn State in the loss with 11 kills and a .588 hitting percentage (11-17). Schumacher also tallied 11 kills to round out Penn State's offensive leaders.

Livingston led Wisconsin with 18 kills and a .500 hitting percentage. Zukowski and Erin Byrd added 14 and 11 kills respectively in the win. Byrd also tallied 14 digs to finish with the only double-double in the match for either team.

PENN STATE	3	Match 13
Northwestern	0	October 6, 2001 Welsh-Ryan Arena Evanston, Ill.
Attendance: 442

Recap History did not repeat itself as the Northwestern volleyball team lost to visiting No. 10 Penn State, 3-0 (30-19, 30-24, 30-23).

The Wildcats, who defeated Penn State last year in Evanston for one of two conference wins, fall to an even .500 (6-6, 3-3 Big Ten). The Nittany Lions improve to 10-3, 4-2 in conference play.

Despite another stellar performance from sophomore middle blocker Erika Lange, the 'Cats couldn't get it done against Penn State. Lange had 13 kills, two blocks and hit .409 for the match.

For the Nittany Lions Katie Schumacher had a match-high 17 kills, seven digs and hit .517. Mishka Levy chipped in ten kills.

The battle of the Big Ten blockers clearly went to Northwestern. Junior middle blocker Sarah Ballog had six total blocks on the night, compared to conference leader Cara Smith of Penn State, who had two blocks.

What hurt the Wildcats for the second night was receiving errors—they committed 10 to Penn State's five.

Youngstown St.	0	October 9, 2001 Rec Hall University Park, Pa.
Attendance: 405

Recap Cara Smith posted a team-high 12 kills while hitting .556 overall to lead No. 11 Penn State to a 3-0 (30-23, 30-17, 30-20) win over Youngstown State in a non-conference match on Tuesday night at Rec Hall. Also providing some offensive punch for Penn State in the win were senior Nadia Edwards and freshman Ashley Pederson. Edwards contributed nine kills on 12 errorless swings for a .750 hitting percentage, while Pederson notched eight kills and hit at a .636 clip.

The win improves Penn State to 11-3 overall, while Youngstown State falls to 8-6 following the loss. The Nittany Lions out-hit the Penguins .423-.150 in the match and won the defensive battle as they out-dug Youngstown State 36-26 and posted nine blocks, while Youngstown State managed four.

"It was a good opportunity to get some people a chance to play," Penn State head coach Russ Rose said. "We received some solid production out of our middles, as both Nadia and Cara played well for us tonight."

Penn State controlled the match throughout, as it only trailed at one point in the match, in the opening set when Youngstown tallied the initial point of the match to take a 1-0 lead. The Lions never were behind for the rest of the evening as they recorded a .300-plus hitting percentage as a team in each of the match's three sets. Penn State tallied a match-high .556 hitting percentage in game two, while limiting the Penguins to a .032 clip.

"We made a conscious decision to get some of the younger players some playing time tonight," Rose said. "Freshmen Syndie Nadeau and Ashley Pederson saw significant time tonight and made some nice swings during their time on the court. The experience they gained tonight will benefit both them and the team later on in the season."

Pederson paced the Penn State defense with a team-high nine digs. Smith added five blocks, while Shannon Bortner recorded a pair of service aces in addition to seven kills and a .357 hitting percentage. Setter Jess Hayden directed the offense with 38 assists.

Rebecca Sylak paced Youngstown State in the loss with 10 kills and a .471 hitting percentage. Kristen Meech added seven kills, while Melissa Lyczkowski led the Penguin defensive effort with eight digs.

Recap No. 11 Penn State handed No. 20 Minnesota a dominating 3-0 (30-22, 30-19, 30-27) setback behind a combined 24 kills from Cara Smith and Shannon Bortner. The Nittany Lions displayed a consistent offense throughout as the tallied a .319 team hitting percentage while Minnesota managed to hit .129 overall.

The win improves Penn State's mark to 12-3 overall and 5-2 versus Big Ten foes, while Minnesota falls to 10-5 overall and 4-3 in the league.

Smith and Nadia Edwards paced the Penn State offense to a .395 hitting percentage en route to a 30-22 game one win with eight and five kills respectively, on a combined 16 errorless swings. The Lions overcame a 9-7 deficit in the opening frame to claim the frame and the 1-0 match lead.

Katie Schumacher led the Nittany Lion offensive attack in a 30-19 game two triumph with five kills and a .400 hitting percentage. Minnesota tallied the first point of the second set to claim a 1-0 lead, but would never lead again as Penn State would go on to limit the Gophers to a .068 hitting percentage for the frame while notching a .250 clip on its side offensively. The Lions also managed to out-block the Gophers in game two 5-2.

Minnesota tried to push the match into a fourth game as it put together its best overall effort in game three. The Gophers led the Lions as late as 20-19, but a 14-7 Penn State run down the stretch sealed the win for the Nittany Lions. Mishka Levy stepped up for Penn State on the offensive end in the third stanza as she notched seven kills on 10 errorless swings for a .700 hitting percentage. Bortner added five kills and a .714 hitting percentage in the 30-27 match-clinching win.

Smith led Penn State for the match with a team-high 13 kills while hitting .545 overall. She was one of five Penn State players who finished the night with a .300-plus hitting percentage, along with Edwards (seven kills/.385), Bortner (11 kills/.588), Levy (nine kills/.316) and Jess Hayden (three kills/.333). Tabitha Eshleman led the Lions defensive effort with a career-best 11 digs, while Bortner completed the Lions' lone double-double of the evening with 11 kills and 10 digs. Amanda Rome added 11 digs while Smith tallied five blocks.

Minnesota was paced in the loss by Stephanie Hagan who recorded 10 kills and three blocks while hitting .308 overall.

Recap No. 11 Penn State extended its current winning streak to five consecutive matches with a 3-0 (30-23, 30-24, 30-25) victory at Michigan State on Friday night. The win also marked the fifth-straight match in which the Nittany Lions took the minimum three games to defeat an opponent.

The win improves Penn State's record to 14-3 overall and 7-2 in the Big Ten, while Michigan State falls to 9-7 overall and 5-4 in the conference.

Penn State limited the Spartans to a .144 hitting percentage for the match, the 13th time this season in 17 matches that the Lions held its opponent to a sub-.200 hitting percentage. Penn State is 13-0 overall in such matches.

Michigan State came out strong in game one as it built a 16-12 lead. The Lions managed to tie the frame on three occasions, but were unable to claim the lead until an Amanda Rome service ace at 17-17 gave the Lions an 18-17 edge. Penn State went on to outscore the Spartans 12-6 to seal the 30-23 game one victory. The Nittany Lions posted a .270 hitting percentage in the opening stanza, while limiting Michigan State to a .125 clip. Katie Schumacher paced Penn State in game one with a team-high five kills.

Penn State trailed early again in the second set as the Spartans opened a 4-1 edge. The Lions battled back to knot the game on four occasions before finally taking the lead at 10-9 on a solo block by Cara Smith. Penn State held the Spartans to a .043 hitting percentage in the second frame, while posting a total of 5.5 blocks overall en route to the 30-24 win. Mishka Levy led the Lions in game two with five kills, two blocks and a service ace.

The Lions fell behind in game three 4-1 only to rally again to claim the lead at 7-6. Penn State went on to extend its lead to 12-7 on the strength of a pair of kills by Nadia Edwards and back-to-back service aces from Jess Hayden. The Spartans trimmed the deficit to 13-12, but Penn State scored seven of the next eight points behind three kills from Hayden. Following a 9-4 Michigan State run, the Lions scored six of the final nine points to seal the match with a 30-25 win.

Smith paced the Lions in the win as she led the team in kills (11) and blocks (6) while notching a solid .476 hitting percentage. Levy added 10 kills and three blocks, while Hayden notched six kills on nine errorless swings for a team-best .667 hitting percentage. Hayden also directed the Nittany Lion offensive attack by dishing out 32 assists and added a match-high three service aces. Rome and Bortner led the Penn State defensive effort with seven digs each.

Recap No. 11 Penn State ran into some trouble on Saturday night in Ann Arbor, Mich., as it dropped a 3-0 (30-18, 30-28, 30-27) decision to Michigan. The loss snaps the Nittany Lions winning streak at five matches and marked the first time Penn State has lost to the Wolverines since November 18, 1995, a span of 10 matches.

The Wolverines improve to 10-7 overall with the victory and 6-4 in the Big Ten, while Penn State drops to 14-4 and 7-3 in the conference.

Michigan out-hit Penn State .315-.194 for the match and out-blocked the Nittany Lions 9-0-5-0. The Wolverines also won the dig battle 50-47.

Michigan jumped out to a 4-1 lead in the opening stanza and never looked back as it cruised to a 30-18 game one victory. Penn State never managed to take to lead or tie the Wolverines in the first frame as Michigan out-hit Penn State .385-.132. Katie Schumacher paced the Lions in the game one loss with five kills. Jennifer Gandolph posted eight while notching a .727 hitting percentage to lead the Wolverines.

Gandolph remained hot for Michigan in the second set as she notched four early kills, including three consecutive, to stake the Wolverines to a 12-7 lead. Following a Penn State timeout, the Nittany Lions went on a 7-2 run to knot the game at 14-14. The rally was sparked by a pair of kills by Nadia Edwards and three Michigan errors. After a Michigan timeout at 14-14, the Lions gained their first lead of the stanza since 2-1, as a Shannon Bortner service ace made the count 15-14. The teams continued to trade points before Michigan broke a 25-25 tie on a Gandolph kill to claim the lead for good. The Lions cut the Wolverine advantage to 29-28 on a Cara Smith kill, but Michigan sealed the 30-28 win on a winner by Nicole Poquette to take a 2-0 advantage in the match.

Game three was a back-and-forth affair that featured 16 ties. Michigan finally was able to gain momentum when back-to-back block assists by Erin Moore and Shannon Melka turned a 27-27 tie into a 29-27 Wolverine lead. Moore followed with her 12th kill on the night to close out the match for the Wolverines. Michigan recorded a .278 hitting percentage in the third stanza while limiting the Lions to a .189 clip.

Schumacher led Penn State in the loss with 14 kills, while Levy added 13. Bortner paced the Nittany Lion defensive effort with a team-best 10 digs. Jess Hayden dished out 38 assists and tallied a pair of service aces.

PENN STATE	3	Match 19
Northwestern	0	October 26, 2001 Rec Hall University Park, Pa.
Attendance: 2,459

Recap No. 13 Penn State extended its current home court winning streak to 10 matches as it defeated Northwestern 3-0 (30-25, 30-21, 30-23). Mishka Levy led the Nittany Lions' offensive attack with a season-best 21 kills and a .405 hitting percentage.

With the win, Penn State improves to 15-4 overall and 8-3 in the Big Ten, while Northwestern falls to 10 overall and 4-7 in the league following the loss.

The Lions opened the match with a pair of significant lineup changes as freshman Syndie Nadeau made the first start of her career and Shannon Bortner replaced Jess Hayden as the squad's starting setter.

Both teams struggled offensively in the opening stanza as Penn State posted a .220 hitting percentage for the game, while Northwestern managed a .190 clip. The Lions built a 12-6 lead early on, only to see the Wildcats rally behind three kills from Kelli Meyer to claim an 18-15 edge. Penn State responded by out-scoring Northwestern 15-7 down the stretch to claim the 30-25 win. Levy paced Penn State in the opening frame with seven kills and five digs.

Penn State jumped all over Northwestern from the outset of game two as it opened a 20-6 lead. The Lions never looked back as they never let the Wildcats get any closer than 28-20 en route to the 30-21 victory. Penn State registered a .577 hitting percentage in the frame while its defensive effort stymied the Northwestern attack and limited the Wildcats to a .167 clip. Levy once again led the Lions' offensive surge as she registered six attacks on nine errorless swings, while Katie Schumacher added four kills to round out Penn State's game two offensive leaders.

The Nittany Lions erased any thought of a Northwestern rally as they raced out to a 19-9 advantage in game three. Penn State held off Northwestern for the match-clinching 30-23 win despite recording a .184 hitting percentage as a team for the set. Levy led the Lions offensively for the third consecutive game with eight kills.

Cara Smith added to the Penn State attack with eight kills and five blocks in the win, while registering a .438 hitting percentage. Bortner dished out 38 assists in the win in addition to totaling a team-best 10 digs in finishing with a double-double. Nadeau tallied seven kills and seven digs in the first start of her career.

Erika Lange paced Northwestern in the loss with 11 kills and six blocks. Meyer added 10 kills and a pair of blocks.

Wisconsin	2	October 27, 2001 Rec Hall University Park, Pa.
Attendance: 4,205

Recap The No. 13 Penn State women's volleyball team followed the Nittany Lion football team's lead as it rallied from a 2-0 deficit to defeat No. 5 Wisconsin, which entered the night unbeaten in Big Ten play, 3-2 (20-30, 28-30, 30-23, 30-26, 15-9). Earlier in the day, the Penn State football team came back to defeat Ohio State 29-27, to earn head coach Joe Paterno his 324th career win.

The comeback marked the first time the Nittany Lion volleyball squad has mounted a comeback from a 2-0 deficit on its home court since the 1991 season, when it rallied to defeat Wisconsin on Oct. 26. The win also marked the 11th consecutive home victory for Penn State and dropped Wisconsin to 0-12 all-time in matches at Rec Hall.

The win improves Penn State's record to 16-4, 9-3 in the Big Ten, while Wisconsin falls to 17-3 and 11-1 in the league. The Lions earned the win despite being out-hit by the Badgers 140-135 and out-dug 86-74.

The Lions never led in the opening frame that saw them only hit for a .021 clip. Wisconsin posted a .234 average, its highest single-game hitting percentage of the night, as it utilized five kills on seven error-free swings by Sherisa Livingston to cruise to a 30-20 victory.

Penn State gained a 3-1 edge early in game two but would not lead again after falling behind 5-4 as the Badgers stymied the Nittany Lion offensive attack with 21 digs en route to a 30-28 win and a 2-0 match lead. Wisconsin posted a .194 hitting percentage in the second stanza, while Penn State was limited to a .111 clip. Syndie Nadeau, Nadia Edwards and Katie Schumacher paced the Lions in game two with three digs each.

Levy helped Penn State to begin to take over the match in the third stanza when she dropped in a kill to break a 10-10 deadlock and give the Lions a lead they would not relinquish for the rest of the set on the way to a 30-23 game three win. Levy netted a team-best six kills while hitting .600 overall. Penn State posted its best single-game hitting percentage of the night in game three at .222, while limiting the Badgers to .000.

The momentum was firmly in Penn State's favor when with the score tied 22-22 in the fourth set, the Nittany Lions went on a 5-0 run to stake a 27-22 lead. The rally was sparked by back-to-back kills by true-freshman Ashley Pederson, who finished the game with four total kills. Pederson sealed the 30-26 win with her fourth kill of the frame to push the match into a decisive fifth game. Wisconsin dropped the fourth game to Penn State despite out-hitting the Lions .196-.186. Penn State out-dug the Badgers 21-17 en route to the win.

The Nittany Lions scored the first four points of the fifth stanza and Wisconsin never got any closer than 8-6 as the Penn State defense forced six Badger errors and saw Pederson, Schumacher and Levy each post a pair of kills to clinch the comeback with a 15-9 victory.

Levy finished the match as the Lions' leader in kills with 18. The junior hitter also tallied 15 digs in recording her first double-double effort of the season. Schumacher tallied 15 kills and 11 digs in the win for her team-best ninth double-double on the year. Pederson totaled eight kills, while Shannon Bortner dished out 49 assists and tied for the team lead with 15 digs. Cara Smith paced the Lions at the net with seven blocks.

Ohio State	3	October 31, 2001 Rec Hall University Park, Pa.
Attendance: 1,551

Recap No. 10 Ohio State came into Rec Hall on Wednesday night and handed No. 11 Penn State a decisive 3-0 (30-19, 30-23, 30-19) setback behind 25 kills from freshman Stacey Gordon. The Buckeyes thoroughly dominated the Nittany Lions in the match from start to finish as they out-hit Penn State .409-.154 and won the digging battle 49-34.

The three-game loss marked the first time that Penn State has been swept on its home court since Nov. 1, 1995, when Ohio State once again turned the trick. The defeat drops Penn State to 16-5 overall and 9-4 in the Big Ten, while Ohio State improves to 19-2 overall and 11-2 in the conference.

The loss also snapped the Nittany Lions' home-court winning streak at 11 matches. Penn State entered the match having won 112 of its previous 114 matches at Rec Hall. Penn State also entered the match with a 101-6 mark on its home court versus conference foes since joining the Big Ten in 1991.

"It was clear from the outset that this was a match that we weren't prepared to play," Penn State head coach Russ Rose said. "Ohio State did what I expected them to. They distributed the ball to their outside hitters and out-scrapped us on the defensive side."

Adding to the Buckeyes offensive attack was Anne Botica who registered 12 kills and 13 digs. Suzie Stiling notched 11 winners, while Gordon tallied a .541 hitting percentage while pounding a match-high 25 kills, which matched her career-high that she set previously this year in the Buckeyes first match with the Nittany Lions on Sept. 26.

Penn State was paced in the loss by Katie Schumacher who totaled 14 kills and six digs while hitting .321 overall. Mishka Levy added seven kills and six digs, while Ashley Pederson added five.

Recap The No. 13 Penn State women's volleyball team fell to 24th ranked Illinois in five games (30-17, 30-25, 30-32, 28-30, 15-17). Penn State falls to 17-6, 10-5 Big Ten while Illinois improves to 17-6, 10-5 Big Ten.

Aces were the name of the game in the first stanza, with Penn State gaining six points off of Illinois reception errors. Shannon Bortner started out the game for the Lions with three service aces. An overpass kill from Mishka Levy to put the Lions up 4-0, and they never looked back from there, winning game one 30-17. Penn State hit .419 in the contest, while holding the Illini to only .194. Senior Katie Schumacher led the Lions with seven kills.

The second game started out as the first had ended, with the Lions taking a 3-0 lead. Illinois regrouped and had their largest lead of the game at 21-15, but five kills from Levy and two from Schumacher brought the Lions back into the game, tying it at 23. An Illinois attack error and an ace from Levy gave the Lions the lead for good and Penn State ended the second stanza on a block by Schumacher and Cara Smith, 30-25. Penn State out-hit the Illini .381 to .158 for the contest.

Penn State jumped out to a 5-1 lead behind three Illini errors and two Penn State kills. Illinois pulled within two after a Penn State service error, but a Levy kill made the score 11-8. After an Illinois timeout at 20-14, the Illini came back to life. With the score 24-20, Illinois went on a 5-0 run. A kill from Argabright and a Webber service ace ended the game 32-30 Illinois. Schumacher led the Lions in game three with eight kills.

Game four saw a back and forth contest with seven ties before the score hit 10. Illinois took the lead 11-8 behind two kills from Shadia Haddad, but Nadia Edwards answered with three kills of her own to pull the Lions within one. A Penn State service error ended the game at 30-28. Illinois out-hit the Lions in game four, .262 to .234. Edwards and Levy both had four kills for Penn State.

The final game saw Illinois jump out to a 4-1 lead until a Schumacher kill and Edwards block pulled Penn State to within one. A Penn State attack error and an Illinois kill brought about the side change at eight points with Illinois ahead 8-5. Another Schumacher kill put the Lions ahead 14-13, but an Illinois block knotted the score at 14. Another Illini block made the score 15-14. Schumacher again tied the game at 15 with a kill. A Webber kill and a Penn State attack error ended the game at 17-15.

Schumacher ended the night with 27 kills and 16 digs and Levy added 19 kills and 20 digs.

Attendance: 624

Recap The No. 13 Penn State women's volleyball team defeated Indiana in four games Saturday night in Bloomington, 34-32, 24-30, 30-22, 30-25. Penn State improves to 18-6, 11-5 Big Ten while Indiana falls to 4-19, 1-13 Big Ten.

Game one saw Penn State trail 4-1 before junior Mishka Levy put away an overpass to stop the Indiana run. Three Penn State kills and a block from senior Katie Schumacher and Nadia Edwards put the Lions ahead 6-5. The Nittany Lions ran off eight points for the 15-7 advantage, behind two Penn State blocks, kills and aces. Indiana slowly chipped away at the Nittany Lion lead, putting away seven balls and adding a block and an ace. IU knotted the score at 25 behind a kill from freshman middle Katie Pollum. Penn State jumped ahead with two kills and a Levy ace, but two Hoosier blocks tied the score at 29. A Levy kill and an Indiana attack error finally ended the game at 34-32 Lions. Schumacher and Levy led the Lions in game one with six kills apiece.

The Lions jumped out to a 6-2 lead behind four kills from Levy, but Indiana answered with three kills of their own. The Hoosiers took the lead, and never looked back. Indiana reeled off six straight points, and an ace from IU freshman outside hitter Christina Archibald ended the game at 30-24. The Lions hit .239 for the game but were outblocked four to one.

Game three saw the Lions gain an 8-2 advantage behind several IU errors. The Hoosiers regained some ground, but five straight PSU points pushed the score to 15-8. Some great defensive plays from freshman Ashley Pederson, senior Amanda Rome and junior Hilary Sexton allowed the Lions to take the game 30-22. The Lions were led by Schumacher with eight kills and Pederson adding six. Penn State as a team hit .333 compared to .163 for IU.

The fourth stanza was even until the score hit nine. The Lions went on a 7-3 run to extend the score to 17-13. IU fought back to within one, 22-21, and tied the score at 22 with a kill after a Penn State timeout. The Lions regained the lead behind two IU errors and an Edwards kill. Three straight Penn State points ended the game at 30-25.

Penn State was led by Levy with 27 kills for the night. Schumacher added 20 while Pederson notched 12. Defensively, Schumacher had 20 digs followed by three players with 10 digs apiece.

Attendance: 4,032

Recap Thirteenth-ranked Penn State fell to Michigan State Saturday night, 21-30, 30-32, 30-28, 28-30 in front of a crowd of 4,032. This loss marks the first time Penn State has been beaten three times at home in one season since head coach Russ Rose took the helm in 1979.

The Lions fall to 19-7 overall, 12-6 in the conference, while the Spartans, who beat Ohio State on Friday night, improve to 18-7 overall, 11-7 in the Big Ten.

"I have to give credit to Michigan State," said Rose after the match. "They outfought us tonight. We just didn't seize the opportunities when we had them."

Junior Mishka Levy, who led all attackers with 22 kills, became the 13th player in Penn State history to record 1,000 career digs. Senior Katie Schumacher completed her final regular-season home match with her 13th double-double of the season (19 kills, 14 digs).

Sophomore setter Jess Hayden directed the offense for the Nittany Lions, dishing out 58 assists and adding 12 digs for her third double-double of the season. Freshman defensive specialist Tabitha Eshleman tied her career high for digs, recording 11 on the night.

While the Lions won the digging battle 67-60, the Spartans outhit Penn State .326 to .275. Michigan State was led by Angela Morley with 21 kills and seven blocks, one of five Spartan players to notch double-digit kills.

Recap The No. 16 Penn State women's volleyball team defeated the Minnesota Golden Gophers in five games (30-20, 30-26, 27-30, 28-30, 18-16) Saturday night in Minneapolis, Minn.

Penn State ends the Big Ten regular season with a 14-6 conference record, 21-7 overall. Minnesota falls to an even 10-10 in the Big Ten, 18-12 overall. The two-win weekend marked the first time Penn State has swept a road weekend this season, and guaranteed Penn State their 25th consecutive 20-win season in the last 26 years.

The Nittany Lions were led by senior Katie Schumacher (Chicago, Ill.) with a career-high 29 kills while also adding 20 digs. Junior Mishka Levy (Houston, Texas) recorded 17 kills and 10 digs. Sophomore Cara Smith (Lafayette, Ind.) had 13 kills and no errors on 27 attempts (.481) and nine blocks, a team-high for the season in five-game matches.

Junior Shannon Bortner (Jacobus, Pa.) directed the offense for the Lions, tallying 62 assists and adding nine digs. Penn State hit .245 on the night, compared to .264 by Minnesota. But the Lions dominated the serving game, recording 15 aces on the night, compared to two by the Gophers. Freshman Ashley Pederson (Sioux Falls, S.D.) tallied five of the 15 while Levy had four and Smith recorded three.

NCAA Tournament First Round

Recap Penn State limited Fairfield to a .102 hitting percentage as it handed the Stags a 3-0 (30-21, 30-24, 30-24) setback in the first round of the 2001 NCAA Women's Volleyball Tournament on Friday night at Rec Hall.

The win improves the Nittany Lions all-time mark in NCAA matches on their home court to a perfect 24-0. Penn State has taken the minimum three games in 18 of its last 19 postseason wins at Rec Hall.

"You always feel good when you advance," Penn State head coach Russ Rose said. "We were very fortunate to come out on top given that we dropped our hitting percentage about a hundred points lower every game of the match."

Mishka Levy paced the Penn State offensive attack with a team-high 11 kills. Katie Schumacher notched nine while hitting .364 overall and Cara Smith recorded nine of her own while hitting at a .412 clip.

The Lions out-hit Fairfield in the match .240-.102 and won the digging battle 51-36. Penn State set the tone for the match in the opening frame by hitting .345 while limiting the Stags to a .057 opening frame average.

Shannon Bortner directed the Penn State offense in the win with 38 assists while adding a team-high 10 digs to complete her 10th double-double of the season. Smith led the Lions at the net with seven blocks, including four in game two. Schumacher posted three aces in the win to round out the Penn State stat leaders.

Carola Stowe posted 12 kills and eight digs to pace Fairfield in the loss. Conny Paul added 11 to round out the Stags' offensive attack.

Penn State (22-7) will face UCLA (19-8) in a second round match tomorrow beginning at 7:00 p.m. (ET) at Rec Hall. The Bruins defeated Pennsylvania 3-0 (30-26, 30-25, 30-23) in an earlier first round match. Kristee Porter paced UCLA with 17 kills in the win.

"We are going to have to play a great match tomorrow if we are going to beat the winningest program in collegiate volleyball," Rose said.

NCAA Tournament Second Round

Recap The Penn State women's volleyball team was defeated on its home court in an NCAA Tournament match for the first time in the program's history as UCLA handed the Nittany Lions a 3-0 (30-11, 30-28, 30-18) setback.

The loss marked Penn State's earliest exit from the NCAA Tournament since the field was expanded to 64 teams in 1998. UCLA will advance to the regional portion of the NCAA Tournament where it will face the winner of the Hawaii-Eastern Washington match at a site to be determined.

Penn State finishes the season 22-8 overall, while UCLA improves to 20-8 with the victory.

UCLA took control early in game one as it ran out to a 15-5 advantage behind six kills by Kristee Porter. The Lions got no closer than 18-11 as UCLA went on to score 12 unanswered points to secure the 30-11 game one victory. The Bruins notched a .400 overall hitting percentage over the first set, while the Nittany Lions were limited to a .189 clip.

The Nittany Lions fought back in game two as they 15-10 in the early going before UCLA rallied to knot the score at 20-20 on an attack error by Nadia Edwards. The Lions would never lead again as the Bruins out-scored Penn State 10-8 down the stretch to take a 2-0 match lead with the 30-28 game two win. Katie Schumacher led the Penn State offensive attack in game two with a team-best seven kills while hitting .545 overall. The Lions dropped the second set despite out-hitting the Bruins .217-.158.

Game three saw both teams stay close until UCLA went on a 4-0 run with the score tied at 8-8 to stake a 12-8 lead it would not relinquish en route to a 30-18 match-clinching victory. Porter led the Bruins in game three with five kills, while Schumacher posted five to pace the Lions.

UCLA posted a .238 hitting percentage for the match while Penn State was limited to a .050 clip. The Bruins won the battle at the net as they posted 11 blocks to the Lions' six and also managed to out-dig Penn State 57-43.

Schumacher led Penn State in the loss with 13 kills and five digs while hitting .333 overall. Ashley Pederson added five kills and Shannon Bortner paced the defensive effort with eight digs.

Porter posted a match-high 19 kills while registering a .371 hitting percentage. Ashley Bowles added 11 kills, 11 digs and five blocks. Erika Selsor directed the Bruin offense with 39 assists and tallied a team-best 12 digs.

Penn State wins volleyball title

Penn State players break into an impromptu victory dance following a sweep of Stanford for the NCAA Women's Volleyball Championship. The Nittany Lions' first title follows heart-breaking finals losses the past two seasons.

Nittany Lions exorcise past demons by sweeping Stanford

By Ann Miller
Antietam State Writers

Penn State won its first NCAA Women's Volleyball Championship last night. Winning over the demons that plagued it the past two years was just a bonus.

The top-ranked Nittany Lions blew second-ranked Stanford away, 15-2, 15-10, 15-7, before 7,578 at Stan Sheriff Center. The sell-out Hawaii crowd (minus 2,700 no-shows) watched one of the most one-sided finals in NCAA history. Its only sign of life came between the second and third games, when Hawaii senior Heather Bown was announced with the All-America teams.

Maybe the crowd was in shock. Penn State's change to its first championship — and only the third for a team outside of Hawaii or California — wasn't that surprising, but its dominance was.

A year ago, the Nittany Lions lost their unbeaten season in a five-game NCAA final against Long Beach State. Two years ago, the Cardinal won its fourth NCAA title in five games, also against Penn State.

The Nittany Lions had become the Stanford of the '80s. In those early years, the Cardinal was good enough to get to six final four, but never good enough to win. That changed in 1992. Going into last night, Stanford was 9-1 and the decade's darling.

The '90s are almost over. The Nittany Lions, who won their last 36 matches after a season-opening loss, are now the team to beat. Seniors Bonnie Bremner, Carrie Schonfeld and Lauren Cacciamani, the tournament MVP a second straight year, finished their careers 136-7.

"This is a marvelous occasion for those who have been in the game a long time," Penn State coach Russ Rose said sedately, without a hint of emotion.

Bremner, the All-American setter who had feuded with her coach all season, was just as composed, but didn't try to hide her joy.

"The last two years motivated me," said Bremner, who started every match for four years. "I can't get those back. I lived with that everyday. I wanted to live with something else, something better."

THIRD TIME A CHARM AS LIONS CLAIM NCAA TITLE

HONOLULU--In just one hour and 20 minutes, the top-ranked Penn State women's volleyball team erased memories of five game losses in the previous two title matches by sweeping Stanford for the first NCAA volleyball national championship in school history. The Nittany Lions defeated the Cardinal 15-2, 15-10, 15-7 in front of a sold-out crowd of 10,252 fans at the Stan Sheriff Center at the University of Hawaii.

"I think we set the stage for the win in the first game when we had 10 blocks," said head coach Russ Rose. "We had a great game plan and the players played with passion and enthusiasm right out of the chute. I believe the players are the ones that placed themselves in a position to get into this situation and I thought they handled all the distractions that normally come in a match like this as well as they possible could."

"I think we had a great game plan and the players played with a lot of passion and enthusiasm right out of the chute."

-Head coach Russ Rose on defeating Stanford for the NCAA Championship

It was a perfect ending for the three seniors who had started in the previous two title matches. Each of the trio played one of their best matches of the year, including senior Lauren Cacciamani who was named the Most Outstanding Player after pounding out a match-high 20 kills with eight blocks. Also the 1999 National Co-Player of the Year, she and the rest of the team weren't about to fall behind by two games again this year.

"We did get an opportunity to watch a lot of film and we knew that we had to come out and jump on them," Cacciamani said. "We were going to try to go out there and dictate instead of having them show us what was going to go on. We were planning on going out strong and with a lot of fight."

Seniors Bonnie Bremner and Carrie Schonveld were also named to the NCAA Championship All-Tournament team. Bremner dished out 37 assists with four kills of her own. She also hit .333 with six digs and a pair of blocks. Schonveld had nine kills to go with her team-high 10 digs. The outside hitter hit .368 on the night and also aided at the net with three blocks (1 BS, 2 BA).

The Lions were banking on their previous championship experience and it finally paid off. "We played well and at times we wanted to keep the ball in play and hope that they would make mistakes," Bremner said. "They're a big team that's going to get a lot of kills, but we were also figuring they would make mistakes."

The Penn State blockers created a wall that the Stanford hitters could not avoid. Fueled by Cacciamani's eight blocks, the Lions held the Cardinal to a season-low .008 hitting percentage as 1999 Co-Player of the Year Kerri Walsh zeroed out (11k-11e-33ta). They also held 1999 Freshman-of-the-Year Logan Tom to negative numbers (7k-10e-31ta, -.097).

Redshirt-freshman Mishka Levy and sophomore Katie Schumacher each added five blocks--both with one solo and four assisted. Each of the six players that rotated to the front row recorded at least one block as Penn State ended the evening with 15 to Stanford's 10.5.

"We blocked incredibly well and with patience," Rose said. "We blocked 10 balls and they had nine hitting errors in addition to that [in the first game], in my opinion they never got into a flow and I think some of their younger players weren't ready for that. We knew what we wanted to do and we recognized that a couple of players were going to be able to get their kills. We had a game-plan that we felt comfortable about and believed would be successful."

Schumacher also added nine kills with three each from Levy and sophomore Amanda Rome.

The Lions only trailed during one part of the match. Down 3-1 in game two, the Lions rolled off three-consecutive points to resume the lead and never looked back the rest of the way. It was the first time this season the Cardinal had been swept.

The Lions end the season with a 36-1 mark with the only loss coming in the season opener to Florida on Aug. 27. It was a matter off pulling things together to end the season on a high note.

"We didn't peak at the beginning of the season, obviously. We progressed and got better as the season wore on. The younger people got a lot better and the older people became better leaders and got it together as well. So it was an uphill progression leading towards the end."

-Senior Lauren Cacciamani on losing the first match of the year before closing out the season with 36 straight wins.

"We didn't peak at the beginning of the season, obviously," Cacciamani said. "We lost our first match so we knew we wouldn't go undefeated. We did a good job playing as a team. We progressed and continued to better as the season wore on. The younger people improved and the older people became better leaders and kept it together as well. So it was an uphill progression leading towards the end."

Carrie Schonveld

FINISHING ON TOP

The class of 1999 – Bonnie Bremner, Lauren Cacciamani, Kalna Miller and Carrie Schonveld – had been through it before but their final year had a different, even story-book ending. After losing in the regionals finals as freshmen, these four followed up with a pair of NCAA Semifinal appearances that led to five-game losses in the title match. Those memories were all erased with a three-game sweep of Stanford for the first women's volleyball title in school history.

What the seniors were a part of is nothing short of incredible. They helped Penn State to an amazing 137-5 record with a share of two Big Ten championships (1996 & 1997) before winning it outright in 1998 and 1999. The quartet also compiled a .773 mark (.963) in Big Ten matches, including consecutive 20-0 seasons over the past two years. They made Penn State the first school in Big Ten history to win four-consecutive crowns and never lost a match at home.

Home Sweet Home

Talk about a home-court advantage – the four seniors never even lost a match and dropped only nine games in University Park.

The 1999 senior class took the court in Rec Hall 78 times in their four years and each time they left with a win – a large part of the reason Penn State owns the NCAA record for consecutive home wins at 87.

What's even more amazing is the manner in which Penn State has won at home. During the seniors last 62 matches in Rec Hall, only Wisconsin (twice) and Texas (twice) were able to take a game. But it gets better...in the 80 consecutive home wins the class was a part of, 72 of those were three-game sweeps and the Lions never had to play five games.

The United States Professional Volleyball league was founded in February of 1999. With world and national support, the USPV will provide the foundation for unique opportunities for women athletes to earn the respect they deserve. The USPV has the chance to establish itself as the first professional league in the U.S. led by women, without comparison of a men's pro league in the same sport category. Five former Penn State athletes have been members of the USPV, with four competing during the inaugural four-team pool play season of 2002.

In the USPV, individual player points can be scored three different ways. One point is awarded for a service ace, a kill or a solo block with half of a point (0.5) awarded for a block assist. Matches in the USPV are best 3-of-5 games to 25 points with the 5th game to 15, and the let serve and libero rules are used.

State College, Pa.; Oct. 6, 1997 - Penn State can now say it is truly the number one team in the country, as tonight it beat the USA Volleyball Women's National Team, 15-8, 15-13, 13-15, 15-12. Rec Hall was full of electricity as 2,211 fans cheered the Lions on in route to becoming the first college team to take a game from Team USA, much less win a match.

"We were aided by the home crowd and the excitement of the event--We had nothing to lose," said Penn State head coach Russ Rose. "I thought we played hard and competed hard. It was a great team victory."

Sophomore middle hitter Lauren Cacciamani (Paramus, N.J.) posted match-highs of 18 kills and 11 blocks to lead the Nittany Lions. Outside hitter Carrie Schonveld (Portage, Mich.) notched 14 kills, nine blocks and a team-high 16 digs, while junior outside Christy Cochran (Bethlehem, Pa.) posted 14 kills and 14 digs. In addition, sophomore setter Bonnie Bremner (Lisle, Ill.) had 56 assists and 15 digs.

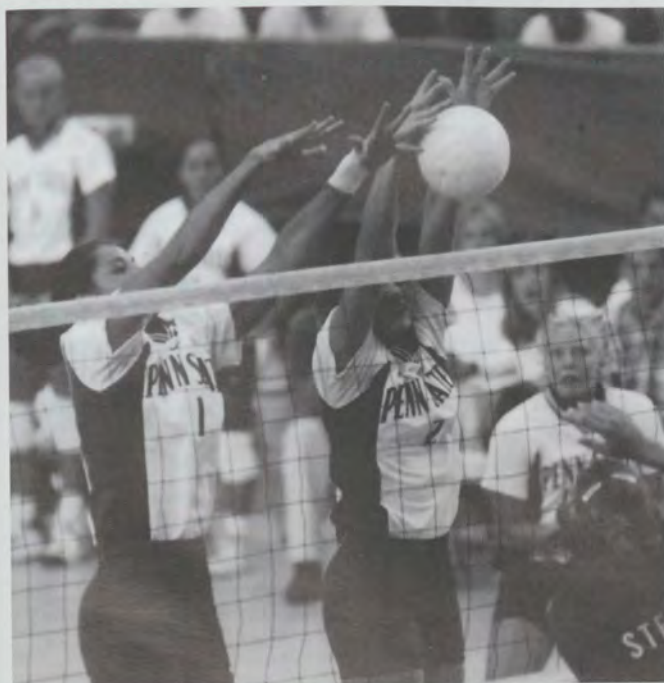

Team USA was paced by outside hitter Karrie Downey and right side Allison Weston, who both notched 16 kills and 20 digs. Former Penn State All-American Salima Davidson, now the United States' starting setter and team captain, had 63 assists, 10 digs and five kills.

"I think they played a great match, they played like Penn State and that's the bottom line," Davidson noted. "We played hard, but we could have played harder."

Penn State won game one easily, after racing to a 10-1 lead. Early on, game two was much the same, as the Lions used their momentum to go up 7-3, but

Team USA battled back to take a 10-7 lead. However, Penn State's block woke up, as it rallied to take the game 15-13. For the match, Penn State out-blocked the national squad 22.5-11.

The third game was all Team USA, as it seized the lead early, and held on down the stretch. The final frame was a see-saw battle, as the lead changed hands numerous times. With the score tied at 12-12, Cacciamani put down a spike and senior middle hitter Terri Zemaitis (Downers Grove, Ill.) and junior opposite Lindsay Anderson (Crystal Lake, Ill.) had consecutive blocks to close out the match.

Emily Stout (1) and Lauren Cacciamani (2) record one of Penn State's 22.5 blocks against Team USA.

BOOSTER CLUB

Penn State women's volleyball has many supporters, including country music star Tim McGraw.

Russ Rose discusses the upcoming season with the Nittany Lion Volleyball Booster Club.

The Nittany Lion Volleyball Booster Club

was formed to promote women's volleyball at Penn State and in the community and to provide support for the student-athletes. The Club sponsors a preseason picnic, a post-season banquet and hospitality events after home matches. Persons interested in joining the Club may write: Penn State Nittany Lion Volleyball Booster Club, P.O. Box 133, State College, Pa. 16804-0133.

The Booster Club and players socialize at a party following a volleyball match.

The Nittany Lion Volleyball Booster Club was the major supporter of the team's trip to Cuba in 2000.

PENN STATE UNIVERSITY

Another

GREAT

Year in 2001-02

From left to right: Kevin Donohue won two Big Ten titles and three All-America honors in gymnastics; swimmer Corrie Clark collected four golds and helped the women's swimming and diving team to its first Big Ten title; Two-time EIVA Player of the Year Jose Quinones led the men's volleyball team to the national semifinals; Connie Moore won both the 100 and 200-meter titles and was named the Athlete of the Championship at the Big Ten Outdoor Track & Field Championships; Christie Welsh was named the National Player of the Year and led women's soccer to their fourth-straight Big Ten title.

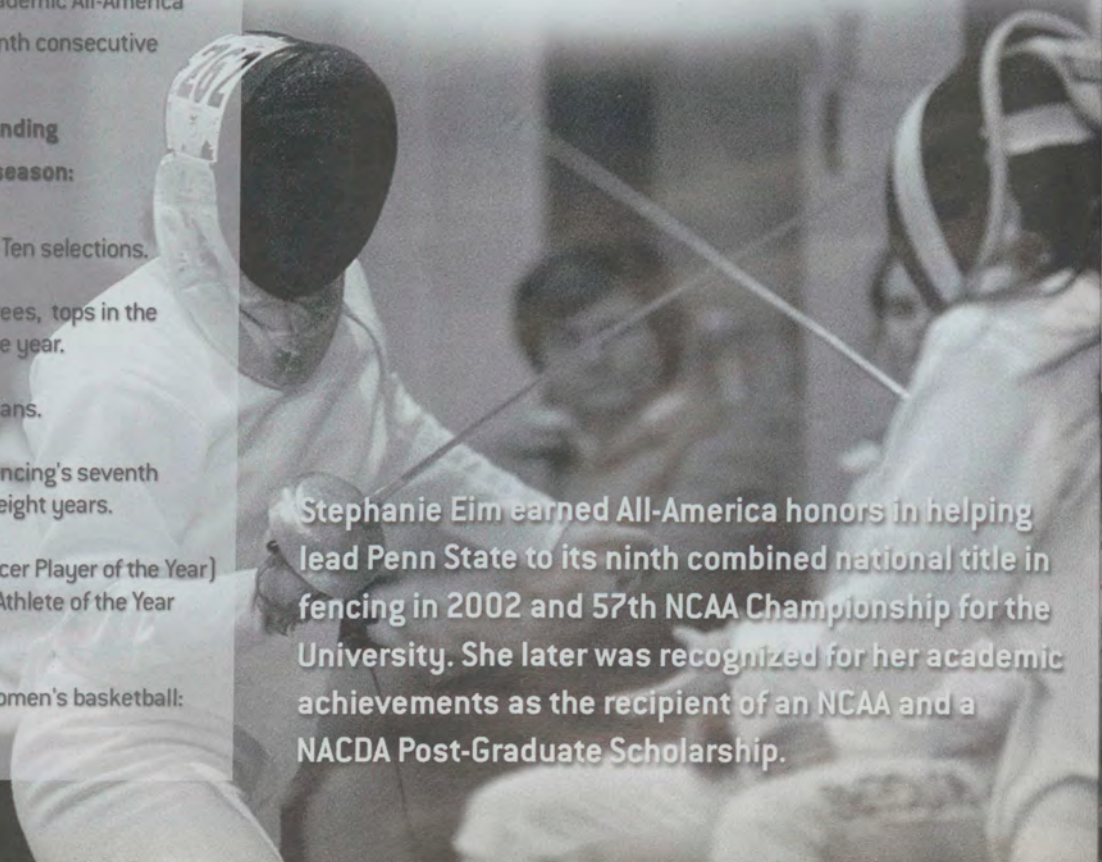

Penn State enjoyed another outstanding year in athletics in 2001-02, highlighted by 32 Nittany Lions earning All-America honors and 21 teams advancing to NCAA Championship competition or having individuals qualify. Six Lions earned Verizon Academic All-America honors and Penn State posted its ninth consecutive Top 25 Sears Director's Cup finish.

Here's a look at a few of the outstanding accomplishments of the 2001-02 season:

- ☐ 32 All-Americans and 52 All-Big Ten selections.
- ☐ 209 Academic All-Big Ten honorees, tops in the Big Ten for the sixth consecutive year.
- ☐ Six Verizon Academic All-Americans.
- ☐ Penn State's 57th overall and fencing's seventh NCAA Championship in the last eight years.
- ☐ Hermann Trophy (Women's Soccer Player of the Year) and Big Ten Suzy Favor Female Athlete of the Year winner Christie Welsh.
- ☐ The nation's leading scorer in women's basketball: Kelly Mazzante.

Stephanie Eim earned All-America honors in helping lead Penn State to its ninth combined national title in fencing in 2002 and 57th NCAA Championship for the University. She later was recognized for her academic achievements as the recipient of an NCAA and a NACDA Post-Graduate Scholarship.

The Ultimate College Town...

STATE COLLEGE

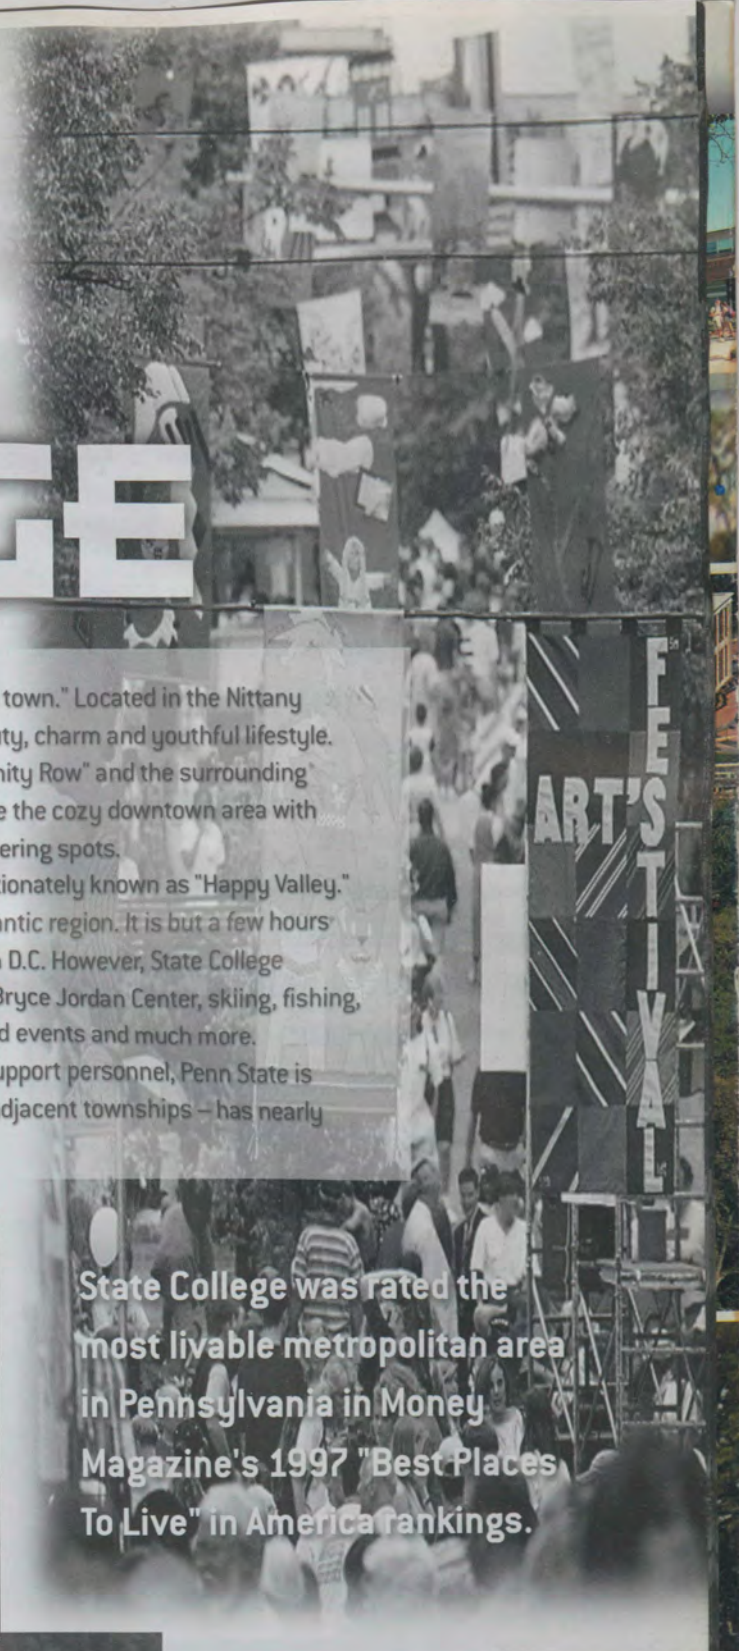

Penn State is situated in the middle of State College...the classic "college town." Located in the Nittany Valley in the center of Pennsylvania, State College is renowned for its beauty, charm and youthful lifestyle.

Trees and greenery envelope the stately fraternity houses along "Fraternity Row" and the surrounding residential areas. Quaint shops and popular restaurants and taverns share the cozy downtown area with students' favorite fast food shops, contemporary clothing stores and gathering spots.

And it all lies in the shadow of the legendary Mt. Nittany in what is affectionately known as "Happy Valley."

State College is conveniently located in the heart of the nation's mid-Atlantic region. It is but a few hours drive to New York City, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Baltimore and Washington D.C. However, State College provides a great variety of entertainment itself with rock concerts at the Bryce Jordan Center, skiing, fishing, The Central Pennsylvania Festival of the Arts, numerous student organized events and much more.

With a total full-time work force of more than 9,000 faculty, staff, and support personnel, Penn State is Centre County's largest employer. The Centre Region – State College and adjacent townships – has nearly 120,000 inhabitants, including Penn State students.

State College was rated the most livable metropolitan area in Pennsylvania in Money Magazine's 1997 "Best Places To Live" in America rankings.

A Respected

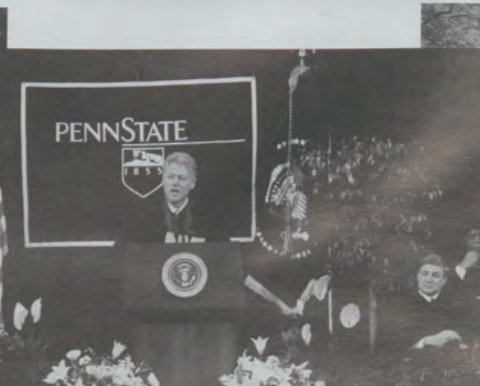

UNIVERSITY

Penn State Ranks

- * Tied for fifth nationally in a listing of the best universities in the nation according to a 1999 Gallup poll.
- * Among the nation's top 16 "Hot Schools," according to the Wall Street Journal (2001).
- * One of only 10 NCAA Division I-A institutions to be selected for U.S. News & World Report's 2002 College Sports Honor Roll for athletic and academic achievement.
- * 14th among public universities for "America's Best Colleges" according to U.S. News & World Report (2002).
- * First nationally in unsolicited SAT scores received from prospective students from 1994-97 and second in 1998.
- * Fourth among major research universities in industry-sponsored expenditures according to the National Science Foundation (2000).
- * Among the top 20 best undergraduate engineering and business programs according to U.S. News & World Report (2002).
- * Among the top ten for best research libraries at public universities according to the Chronicle of Higher Education (1998).

In its June 27, 1997 edition
USA Today rated Penn State as the BEST school in the nation in the graduation of its student-athletes. In the NCAA's 2001
report, Penn State's four-year graduation rate for student-athletes was 77 percent, compared to a 58 percent national average.

THE UNIVERSITY

When Penn State opened its doors in 1859, 69 students enrolled. Today, the University reaches more than 5 million Pennsylvanians each year — not only in traditional classroom settings, but through a variety of programs ranging from Cooperative Extension to continuing education workshops, from sports camps to public broadcasting. Plus, thousands of additional students in all 50 states and more than 80 countries take advantage of learning opportunities through Penn State's World Campus and other outreach programs. A lot has changed over the past 150 years, but one guiding principle has not: Penn State still is committed to improving the quality of life for the citizens of Pennsylvania and beyond through teaching, research, and public service.

The state legislature chartered Penn State in 1855 at the request of the Pennsylvania State Agricultural Society. However, it took four years to develop the curriculum, recruit faculty and students, and find a location for the new college, whose goal was to apply scientific principles to farming — a radical departure from the traditional curriculum grounded in mathematics, rhetoric, and classical languages. The college had to be located in a suitable agricultural area, and many communities vied for the privilege of being home to the institution. Centre County was selected when farmer and ironmaster James Irvin of Bellefonte donated 200 acres for the campus.

Penn State's first president, Evan Pugh, drew on the scientific education he had received in Europe to expand the curriculum to include other scientific studies and engineering. Pugh and similar visionaries in other states won federal support for their innovative ideas in 1862, when Congress passed the Morrill Land-Grant Act. The act enabled states to sell federal land, invest the proceeds, and use the income to support colleges "where the leading object shall be, without excluding scientific and classical studies...to teach agriculture and the mechanic arts [engineering]...in order to promote the liberal and practical education of the industrial classes in all the pursuits and professions of life." In 1863, the legislature designated Penn State the Commonwealth's sole land-grant institution. But Pugh died the following year, the income from land sales was small, and the concept of land-grant education was temporarily forgotten. The college drifted, not being especially distinctive for any kind of study. One notable event during those years was the admission of the first women students in 1871.

In 1882, George W. Atherton became Penn State's seventh president. He introduced engineering studies, and the college soon became one of the nation's ten largest undergraduate engineering schools. He broadened the liberal arts, and Professor of English Fred Pattee taught the nation's first course in American literature [heretofore considered an unworthy stepchild of English literature]. Professor of Agriculture Henry Armsby founded the Agricultural Experiment Station, which helped to put Penn State on the map in the context of scientific research. Impressed with these accomplishments, the state legislature authorized regular appropriations to the college beginning in 1887. Also under Atherton's leadership, Penn State graduated its first international student [1890] and African American student [1905].

Through the first half of the 1900s, Penn State focused on undergraduate education and outreach. Enrollment surpassed 5,000 in 1936, by which time the college had become the Commonwealth's largest source of baccalaureate degrees. Also in the 1930s, the administration of President Ralph Hetzel launched a series of branch campuses throughout Pennsylvania for students who, because of Depression-era economics, could not afford to leave home to get a college education. The centers offered the first year or two of undergraduate studies and were the predecessors of today's system of campuses located throughout the Commonwealth.

At first, outreach programs were mainly agricultural. Penn State pioneered in correspondence courses, disseminating scientific knowledge to farmers eager to find more efficient ways of growing crops and raising livestock. The college also worked with local and federal governments to implement a statewide system of agricultural and home economics agents who advised on issues as diverse as family life, nutrition, and food preservation. But by the 1930s, Penn State also had begun outreach programs in the liberal arts, engineering, and the sciences.

Research developed more slowly. Nevertheless, by 1950 Penn State had won distinction for investigations in dairy science, acoustics, building insulation, diesel engines, and other specialized fields. In 1953, The Pennsylvania State College became The Pennsylvania State University to show that its research activities could stand on the same level as teaching and outreach. [The name change touched off a debate about the wisdom of changing the name of State College borough, but in the end the borough's name survived while the campus got the postal address of University Park.]

In the 1960s, Penn State underwent tremendous expansion to meet the growing needs of the baby boom generation, just then coming of college age. The physical plant tripled in value, and hundreds of acres of farm and forest land were added to give the central campus room to grow [land now occupied, for example, by the Blue Golf Course, the Penn Stater Hotel and Conference Center, and the Russell Larson Agricultural Research Center at Rock Springs]. Total enrollment at all campuses climbed to 40,000 by 1970.

Today, enrollment stands at about 81,000 students at 24 locations statewide, including The Milton S. Hershey Medical Center — a college of medicine and teaching hospital — established in 1967; the Pennsylvania College of Technology, a wholly owned Penn State affiliate since 1989; and The Dickinson School of Law, merged with the University in 1997. Penn State continues to make an important impact on life in Pennsylvania in many ways. Over 225,000 alumni — more than half of all living Penn State alumni — live and work in the Commonwealth. Undergraduates today can choose from about 160 courses of study. At the graduate level, Penn State awards more Ph. D.'s than any other institution in the Commonwealth. Penn State research generates 14,000 jobs and has affiliations with more than 400 Pennsylvania companies. In fact, Penn State is number one in Pennsylvania [and number two nationally] in receiving industry-sponsored research funding [$83 million in fiscal 2001]. It also remains committed, in the land-grant tradition, to make available a high-quality education at the lowest possible cost, and to nurture a learning environment that welcomes a diversity of cultures and ideas.

PENN STATE TRADITIONS

NITTANY LION LEGEND

Penn State's athletic symbol, chosen by the student body in 1906, is the mountain lion which once roamed central Pennsylvania.

H.D. "Joe" Mason, a member of the Class of 1907, conducted a one-man campaign to choose a school mascot after seeing the Princeton tiger on a trip with the Penn State baseball team to that New Jersey campus. A student publication sponsored the campaign to select a mascot and Penn State is believed to be the first college to adopt the lion as a mascot.

Since Penn State is located in the Nittany Valley at the foot of Mount Nittany, the lion was designated as a Nittany Lion. In regional folklore, Nittany (or Nita-Nee) was a valorous Indian princess in whose honor the Great Spirit caused Mount Nittany to be formed. A later namesake, daughter of chief O-Ko-Cho, who lived near the mouth of Penn's Creek, fell in love with Malachi Boyer, a trader. The tearful maiden and her lost lover became legend and her name was given to the stately mountain.

THE NITTANY LION SHRINE

Penn State's Nittany Lion shrine was dedicated on Oct. 24, 1942, during Homecoming Weekend. Animal sculptor Heinz Warneke and stonecutter Joseph Garatti molded a 13-ton block of Indiana limestone into the most recognizable symbol of Penn State. The shrine was chosen from six models submitted by Warneke.

The shrine is a gift of the Class of 1940 and rests in a natural setting of trees near Recreation Building. The site was chosen because of its accessibility, the surrounding trees and the fact that the sculpture would not be dwarfed by nearby buildings.

BLUE & WHITE

Penn State's student-athletes are instantly identified by their blue and white uniforms — but those weren't the original school colors.

A three-member committee representing the sophomore, junior and senior classes was appointed in October of 1887 to develop color options from which the student body would select the school's official colors. Dark pink and black was the unanimous choice of the student body after considering the color combinations presented by the committee.

Soon many students and the baseball team were sporting pink and black striped blazers and caps. However, problems arose when the pink faded to white after several weeks of exposure to the sun. The students then opted for blue, rather than black, and white. The official announcement of the new choice was made on March 18, 1890.

PRESIDENT DR. GRAHAM SPANIER

Since he was appointed Penn State's 16th president in 1995, Dr. Spanier has been the guiding force behind several historic academic initiatives, including the creation of The Schreyer Honors College, the Penn State World Campus, the School of Information Sciences and Technology, and the development of consortia in the Life Sciences, Materials Sciences, Environmental Sciences, and Children, Youth, and Families. He oversaw Penn State's merger with The Dickinson School of Law and has promoted increased internationalization of the University. President Spanier reoriented the University's system of campuses to provide greater flexibility in meeting local community needs and elevated Penn State Cooperative Extension to expand outreach to citizens of Pennsylvania. He is leading a $1.3 billion capital campaign.

Dr. Spanier's prior positions include chancellor of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, provost and vice president for academic affairs at Oregon State University, and vice provost for undergraduate studies at the State University of New York at Stony Brook. He previously served Penn State from 1973-1982 as a member of the faculty and in three administrative positions in what now is Penn State's College of Health and Human Development. He holds academic appointments as professor of human development and family studies, sociology, demography, and family and community medicine.

A distinguished researcher and scholar, he has more than 100 scholarly publications, including 10 books. He is a family sociologist, demographer, and marriage and family therapist. He earned his Ph.D. in sociology from Northwestern University, where he was a Woodrow Wilson Fellow, and his bachelor's and master's degrees from Iowa State University.

A national leader in higher education, Dr. Spanier is a member of the Commission on Opportunity in Athletics, a blue-ribbon panel of 15 sports professionals and educators named by the U.S. Department of Education to evaluate Title IX. He also is chair of the Board of Directors of the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges, is vice chair of the Big Ten Conference of Presidents/Chancellors for 2002-03, and is deputy chair of the Worldwide Universities Network. He served as chair of the NCAA Division I Board of Directors, chaired the Kellogg Commission on the Future of State and Land-Grant Universities, served on the Board of Trustees of the National 4-H Council, and was a founding member of the Board of Directors of the University Corporation for Advanced Internet Development (Internet2), was president of the National Council of Family Relations, and chairman of the Board of Directors of the Christian Children's Fund.

His wife, Sandra, is an English professor specializing in 20th century American literature and serves as the general editor of Hemingway's letters. They have two children: Brian is a senior finance major at Penn State and Hadley is a freshman majoring in marketing at Penn State.

Graham Spanier has often been described as an "unconventional" university president. He loves spending time with students. He is a magician and faculty adviser to the Penn State Performing Magicians, has performed with Penn State's Musical Theatre students, has directed the marching band and the glee club, and occasionally substitutes for the Nittany Lion mascot. He has a commercial pilot's license, plays the washboard with the Deacons of Dixieland, and he and his racquetball partner are the reigning Penn State co-ed intramural champions.

But most of his time is spent overseeing one of the nation's largest and most comprehensive universities, with 25,000 employees on 24 campuses, an annual budget of $2.4 billion, and a physical plant of 1,300 buildings.

President Spanier accompanied the Nittany Lion volleyball team to Cuba in the spring of 2000, the first collegiate team to be invited to compete in the communist country.

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR TIM CURLEY

It was another year of outstanding achievement for Penn State Athletics in 2001-02, with 21 programs participating in their respective NCAA Championships, including the University's 57th national championship. Include the more than 30 All-Americans, the Hermann Trophy winner, six Academic All-Americans and once again leading in Academic All-Big Ten honorees and 2001-02 will be regarded as another triumphant year in the history of the Nittany Lions and Lady Lions.

As he surveys the Penn State athletic program he has helped to assemble, Tim Curley can't help but be proud of the litany of accomplishments of Penn State's 800 student-athletes in 29 varsity sports.

In the most recent comprehensive look at the 117 U.S. colleges and universities participating in Division I football and men's basketball, U.S. News and World Report selected Penn State as one of 10 Division I-A institutions for its College Sports Honor Roll. Data on gender equity, number of varsity sports, graduation rates, sanctions, wins and losses were analyzed to determine the listing.

In September 1999, The Sporting News, the national sports weekly, took note of the Nittany Lion and Lady Lion achievements and rated Penn State as the top athletic program in the country.

During this past year, Penn State's women's soccer team won its fourth consecutive Big Ten Championship and the women's swimming and diving program captured its first Big Ten crown. The titles bring Penn State's Big Ten regular-season title count to 17 under Curley's watch. Penn State also has won nine conference tournament crowns during the past eight and one-half years under his leadership.

In 2001-02, the men's and women's fencing team won its seventh NCAA Championship in the past eight years. The men's and women's soccer, women's basketball and men's volleyball squads all advanced to the third round or better of their respective NCAA Tournaments.

In the 1999-2000 season, Penn State captured NCAA Championships in fencing, men's gymnastics and women's volleyball, with the women's volleyball, women's basketball and women's soccer squads all winning Big Ten titles.

In the initial nine years of the Sears Directors' Cup all-sports survey, Penn State has earned six top 10 finishes and three top five placings, including twice in the past four years.

Academic performance by Penn State student-athletes continues to keep pace with achievements on the field. The annual NCAA graduation rate report showed that 75 percent of the class that entered in 1994-95 graduated within six years, eighth-best nationally among Division I-A programs. The national average for all institutions was 58 percent, according to the 2001 NCAA report.

For the Fall 2001 semester, 150 student-athletes posted a grade-point average of 3.5 or higher to earn Dean's List recognition. A total of 386 student-athletes earned a GPA of 3.0 or above, an impressive 53.5 percent of all active student-athletes.

The Lions again showed the way with 209 Academic All-Big Ten choices in 2001-02, leading all Conference institutions for the sixth consecutive year. Over the past six years, Penn State has had 1,242 Academic All-Big Ten selections, easily the most among the conference schools.

Six student-athletes earned Verizon Academic All-America honors in 2001-02, giving Penn State 98 such selections all-time, with 59 in the past nine years and 32 in just the last four years. Penn State's 29 varsity teams had an overall GPA of 2.96 in 2000-01 with 14 teams boasting an average of 3.0 or better.

To continue to give the coaching staff and student-athletes the resources to succeed academically and athletically, Curley is guiding the most ambitious fund-raising and athletics facilities campaigns in the department's history.

The most recently completed capital project was the 12,500-seat expansion and renovation of Beaver Stadium, which has grown to a capacity of 107,282. The project, which was completed prior to the 2001 season, included private suite and club level seating previously unavailable. The $93-million improvement upgraded stadium infrastructure, added rest rooms and concession stands, and created new team and support facilities. It also included construction of the magnificent Penn State All-Sports Museum to house Penn State's impressive collection of sports memorabilia.

Other facility projects completed in the last four years include the construction of the Lasch Football Building ($13.8 million), Indoor Multi-Sport Facility ($16 million) and Sarni Tennis Center ($2.1 million) and renovations to the White Building ($8 million) and East Area Locker Room ($2 million). Additional athletic facility improvements are on the drawing board, including a new baseball park, awaiting final design and funding.

Curley also oversees the expansive intramural/club sport programs — which included a third consecutive national championship in men's ice hockey in 2002 — on the University Park campus, as well as general recreational activities. He's charged as well with responsibility for the athletic and recreational programs at Penn State's Commonwealth Campuses.

It is a dizzying pace even for the energetic Curley, a regular presence at athletic events, team banquets, alumni meetings and regional and national gatherings of athletic administrators, including his 2000 appointment to the the NCAA Division I Championships/Competition Cabinet. Curley chairs the NCAA Postseason Bowl Certification Sub-Committee and in June, was named Third Vice President of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA), putting him in rotation to serve as president of NACDA in 2005-06.

In his brief tenure, Curley has shown a disposition to get things done.

Penn State has captured NCAA titles in men's and women's volleyball; men's and women's fencing and men's gymnastics in his first nine years at the helm. The football team has won six of its seven bowl appearances under Curley's watch.

Penn State has established a reputation as a force in the highly competitive Big Ten — winning 30 regular-season or tournament titles in football, baseball, women's basketball, field hockey, men's soccer, women's soccer, men's and women's swimming and diving and women's volleyball.

It is no exaggeration to say Tim Curley is someone who knows the Penn State athletic program from the ground up. A State College product, Curley grew up across the street from Old Beaver Field where some of his most memorable days as a youngster were spent there and in Rec Hall. He parked cars, sold game programs and served as a baseball batboy.

The top assistant to Athletic Director Jim Tarman, Curley was named to succeed Tarman on December 30, 1993, when Tarman retired after 35 years as a Penn State athletic administrator.

Curley, 48, has been a full-time member of the Penn State athletic staff since he joined the department as a graduate assistant football coach. A product of State College Area High School where he played basketball and football for Coach Jim Williams' undefeated 1971 team, Curley walked on as a football player only to have his career cut short by injuries. He continued his work with football as an undergraduate assistant coach and, after earning his Bachelor's degree in health and physical education in 1976, he served a year as a graduate assistant coach while pursuing his Master's degree in counselor education.

Curley was named the Lions' first full-time football recruiting coordinator in 1978 and was instrumental in identifying and recruiting a number of members of the 1982 national championship team. In 1981, he was named assistant to the athletic director where he was involved with the day-to-day operations of the department, including student-athlete services, grants-in-aid, and a wide range of other duties. His responsibilities later expanded when he was named the primary liaison to the men's basketball and football programs.

Curley was active in the development of the Academic Support Center for Student-Athletes; the Penn State Sports Medicine Center; the Varsity "S" Club and the Football Letterman's Club during his tenure as assistant to the athletic director. He also was instrumental in putting in place Penn State's first NCAA compliance program and acted as the department's compliance coordinator for five years before surrendering those responsibilities when he was named Associate Athletic Director in 1992.

He is married to the former Melinda Harr of Washington, Pa., and has two children — a daughter, Devon, and a son, Tanner. Curley was born on April 28, 1954.

THE STATE COLLEGE AREA

Located among mountains and valleys in the exact geographic center of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Centre County thrives on its ability to blend education with industry, technology, historic shopping districts and farming communities.

The heart of the Centre Region is State College, a community featuring the best that life has to offer, in education, commerce, culture and recreation.

This mixture of the cosmopolitan and pastoral works so well that to many the Centre Region is known as "Happy Valley." The region is frequently ranked near the top of the charts by Money magazine's "Best Places To Live" and Rand McNally's "Retirement Places Rated Guide." In the late 1980's, Psychology Today called State College the least stressful place in the United States.

Centre County is home to The Pennsylvania State University, one of the finest teaching and research institutions in the land. Penn State's impact is great, from the touring Broadway shows that visit campus to two recent additions: the Penn State Research Park and the 15,261-seat Bryce Jordan Center.

The ebb-and-flow of students and activity in State College creates a vital downtown that always is bustling, but this is especially so during home football weekends in the fall and the nationally-acclaimed Central Pennsylvania Festival of the Arts every July.

Escape isn't far away. Less than 20 minutes from campus are quiet towns and villages with charms of their very own, as well as mountains, lakes and roaring streams and brooks.

INTERVIEW AND CREDENTIAL POLICIES

This publication about the 2002 Penn State Women's Volleyball team has been prepared to aid members of the media covering the Nittany Lions this season. Additional information is available by contacting Jen Armson in the Penn State Sports Information Office (814) 865-1757.

CREDENTIALS

Members of the media should contact the Penn State Sports Information Office to request season or individual game credentials for Nittany Lion volleyball home matches.

Individual game requests should be made no later than noon the day prior to the game and should be directed to Jen Armson, Sports Information Assistant, at (814) 865-1757 or faxed on official letterhead to Armson's attention at (814) 863-3165. Credentials will be available for pick-up at the Rec Hall Will Call window the evening of the contest.

INTERVIEW POLICIES

Please direct all requests for interviews with coaches or players to Jen Armson, Sports Information Assistant. Members of the Penn State coaching staff are usually available during weekday mornings and are available after matches.

Members of the volleyball team will be available for interviews before and after scheduled practices, but will not be available for interviews on the day of a game, home or away, until the post-game press conference. After matches, head coach Russ Rose and requested players will be available for interviews in Rec Hall, room 142. Players will return telephone calls; home numbers will not be released.

Penn State adheres to the NCAA photography policies. Photographers are permitted on the volleyball court but must remain in the designated area.

E-MAIL UPDATES

While game notes and updated stats will be distributed to local media via email on a regular basis, members of the media may request that they be added to the Penn State Sports Information

Office's women's volleyball e-mail group. Subscribers will receive game notes, game stories and other information via e-mail. To subscribe, send a request to jma19@psu.edu. Please identify yourself and organization in your request as this service is only available to members of the media.

TELEPHONES

There will be at least one phone provided on press row for media to make calling card or collect phone calls. Please alert Jen Armson if additional phone lines are needed, and arrangements will be made. Furthermore, additional phone lines and a fax machine will be provided in the Rec Hall Media Room (Room 301).

DAILY MEDIA SERVICES

For the most up-to-date Nittany Lion volleyball news and statistics, visit the official website of the Penn State Athletic Department at www.GoPSUsports.com. Game notes and updated statistics for the upcoming match will be posted the day before the contest.

GAMEDAY MEDIA SERVICES

The Penn State Sports Information staff will provide pre-match notes, scorecards, rosters, updated statistics and results for each team in the Rec Hall Media Room (Room 301, adjacent to press row off of the track) prior to each match. Box scores and any postmatch notes will be distributed approximately 10 minutes after the conclusion of the match.

An Associated Press-style game story will also be produced by the Penn State Sports Information Office. Members of the media may request these stories be sent to their organization via fax or e-mail by contacting a member of the Penn State Sports Information Staff.

PENN STATE SPORTS INFORMATION OFFICE

The Penn State Sports Information Office is located in 101 of the Bryce Jordan Center. The entrance is located off University Drive.

All of the Penn State women's volleyball home matches will be played in the main gym of Rec Hall, located on the University Park campus off of Atherton Street. Parking is available in Red A, located across Atherton Street, or in the Nittany Parking deck on campus when available.
